'Mr. Roberts' to Run Four More Weeks

One of the most delightful and fun-filled stage plays of recent years has opened at Chapel Theatre, 4164 Pacific Coast Hwy., for a five-weekend run. "Mr. Roberts," written by Thomas Heggen and Joshua Logan, will play through March 26. Fred West of Fountain Valley is directing the production. Leading roles are played by Don Mallon and Sean Morgan. Mallon, of Redondo Beach, is seen in the title role. Morgan, now in his third year as a regular on the Ozzie and Harriet television series, plays the part of Ensign Pulver. Morgan is an Inglewood resident. Others in the cast include Dick O'Neil of Palos Verdes, seen as Doc; Billy Creamer of Palos Verdes, the obnoxious captain; Frank Corsentino of Torrance and Glenn Hoeffner of Hermosa Beach, who supply much of the humor, and Bob Johnston of Torrance, who portrays Chief Johnson. Noel Fontaine of Los Angeles is Dolan and Jerry Roxworth of Lawndale is the MP. The crew includes Rick Gates, Bill Ennis, Edd Linskey, Jim Sena, and Dave Hedge. Reservations may be secured by calling the box office, 372-9636. All Sundays have been sold out, according to Betty Schroeder, producer of "Mr. Roberts."

"The governor urged all citizens of the state to "dedicate the month of March to the support of the Civic Action Fund for Viet Nam by sharing their prosperity with the destitute people of the Republic of Viet Nam." The Civic Action Fund was established in September, 1965. Working with CARE, the fund seeks to increase the flow of necessary supplies to
