An Open Letter To the Residents Of Torrance . . .

From

NICKOLAS "Nick" DRALE — Candidate for MAYOR of TORRANCE

Dear Resident:

My announced candidacy for the office of mayor came about unexpectedly and involved a lot of thought and soul-searching. Having served for many years as a councilman and mayor, I had decided to devote myself to the needs of my family and business.

As the deadline for filing approached it became apparent that no one was going to step forward to challenge the individual who presently holds power in city hall. I was appalled by the thought that, in a city of 137,000, the democratic tradition of contested elections was about to break down. For these reasons, and at the urging of my friends and neighbors, I made the decision to run.

During the coming weeks I will come forward with many specific proposals for the betterment of our city. However, the overriding theme of my campaign is going to be one which stresses pride, loyalty, and community spirit.

I am not beholden to any groups or cliques therefore I must look to you, the average citizen, for support. Please drop by our campaign headquarters if you would like to help in this campaign. We are in need of workers and funds.

I am always open to suggestions or discussion pertaining to the future of our city.

Thank you,
Nick Drale
