

$400,000 in Airport Bonds Sold by City

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS . . . Clarence A. Lindenman (right) of 22405 Kent Ave., and co-worker Harry G. Giew beam as they receive checks representing their split of a $746.10 award from James Dooley, vice president of McCulloch Corp. The award paid Lindenman and Giew was the largest ever paid under the McCulloch suggestion plan. Their suggestion on steel dies will save the company about $6,000 a year.

Hearing on Avalon Zone Case Slated

A public hearing on a petition for a change of zone in the Avalon-Sepulveda Zoned District will be held before the Regional Planning Commission Tuesday, Feb. 16, at 9 a.m.

The petition seeks a change of zone from A-1 to C-2 and R-1 for a five-acre parcel located on the southeast corner of Main Street and East Jay Street.

The hearing will be held in room 150, Hall of Records,

Blandy to Attend State Conference

John F. Blandy, supervisor of food services for the Torrance school district, will attend the annual conference of the California Food Service Association in Oakland April 10-14.

RHEUMATIC FEVER

Most cases of rheumatic fever, frequently a forerunner of rheumatic heart disease and once a major enemy of children, can now be prevented, according to the Los Angeles County Heart Assn.

320 W. Temple St., Los Angeles.

Sale of $400,000 in Torrance Municipal Airport bonds to Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith of Los Angeles was approved by the City Council last night.

Bids on the revenue bonds were opened at the beginning of the short session. The city will pay an interest of 3.8976 per cent on the 25-year bonds, or a total of $241,

University Principal Will Speak

Mrs. Madeline Hunter, principal of UCLA's University Elementary School, will speak to Torrance principals during the final session of a reading workshop Tuesday, Feb. 23.

The meeting will be held at the district's Educational Materials Building at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Hunter, who earned a bachelor's degree in psychology and education and a master's degree in education is currently a doctoral candidate at UCLA.

She has held positions as a psychologist, administrator, director of research, and curriculum director and has published numerous articles on guidance, teacher training, and public education.

Her most recent article will be released shortly in the CTA Journal. It is entitled "The Agony and Ecstasy of Teaching."

over the term of the bonds.

The bonds, Series B of the airport bond issue, were authorized by the city's voters in 1962. Proceeds of the sale will be used to finance improvement at the airport, according to airport manager Jack Egan.

Army Pvt. Robert L. Horton, whose mother, Mrs. Maybell A. Kerr, and wife, Carol, live at 4118 Via Lado, was assigned to the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C., Jan. 15.

The division, part of the Strategic Army Corps main-

City Manager Edward J. Ferraro said the overall interest rate represented a good bid on today's bond market and compare favorably with Series A airport bonds, sold in 1963.

Both the interest and principal on the bonds will be paid out of revenues derived from the airport in no case, Ferraro said, will the taxpayers be charged for the bonds. Airport users, tenants, and operators will repay the debt through fees levied at the airport.

IN OTHER action, the council:

- Approved a precise plan for the development of property located on the southeast corner of Anza Avenue and Torrance Boulevard.
- Granted a two-week extension of time to the Civil Service Commission for the study of a new civil service ordinance. The proposed ordinance will be handed to councilmen Feb. 23.

- Authorized the installation of a new public address system at the Recreation Center at a cost of $1,622.
- Adopted a resolution establishing a citizens advisory committee for the proposed civic auditorium. The mayor and each councilman will appoint two members.
- Adopted a resolution opposing Assembly Bill 300, which would introduce partisan politics at the county and municipal level of government.

Supervisor Will Attend Meeting

Dr. Bernard Garen, supervisor of new construction for the Torrance Unified School District, will attend the fourth annual American Institute of Architects-Building Contractors Association - Educators conference March 14-16.

The conference will be held at the University of California Residential Conference Center at Lake Arrowhead.
