HAPPY HOSTS . . . Pleased over the reception of their new Tea House Restaurant in Rolling Hills Plaza are (l to r) Louis Song, Rose Song, Mrs. J. Wu and Chef Joe Wu.

LENTEN DISHES . . . Just to remind you that today is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent; there are delicious Lenten dishes at all INTERNATIONAL HOUSE OF PANCAKES restaurants.

Our review of "A Night of the Iguana" now at Chapel Theatre will appear in next week's Press-Herald. Watch for it.

SIGNAL HONOR was given to Jimmy Lloyd and J. Bartell La Rue of Jimmy LLOYD PRODUCTIONS when they were designated as representatives in the field of motion pictures last week at UCLA's World of Work Conference. Actor, producer, and now personal manager, Jimmy Lloyd discussed with students their interests and ambitions relating to the stage and films, directing and producing during the two day conference which was jointly sponsored by the UCLA Senior Class and Alumni Association. Lloyd Productions' general manager, J. Bartell La Rue also counseled at the Conference which included informal discussion panels, demonstrations, individual counseling. Jimmy Lloyd told about his own personal professional experiences during the time he was under contract to Columbia Studios and making 125 tv films.

FLAMENCO . . . for the first time, Jose Greco and his troupe of Spanish dancers will present an all-Flemenco program at Wilshire Ebell Theatre March 9 through 13 under sponsorship of impresario Mary Bran.

Over the TABLE TOPS

Discriminating women, who appreciate beautiful surroundings, excellent food, good service and beautiful CLOTHES, filled both dining rooms at the smart HUNTING HORN Restaurant in Peninsula Center last Thursday. The occasion was the first of a new series of Thursday luncheon fashion shows being presented at the Hunting Horn. I dropped in for a quick look see and was delighted with the clothes, which included such well-known trademarked gowns as Jr. Sophisticates and Anita Modes. It is sure to become "the thing" to get the girls together on Thursday for lunch at the Hunting Horn and to watch the parade of attractive models with their smart fashions! Incidentally, dining at the Hunting Horn last week were Dr. and Mrs. Bertram Lee, Messrs. and Mmes. Norman Frye, Allen Caterson and the James Yates, the latter regular partygivers at the Horn.

DID YOU KNOW that Ben Malica, general manager at MICHAEL'S REDONDO (just across from the May Company) formerly owned the Los Robles Motor Lodge and the Cimarron Room in Sacramento? . . . One of the most unique music boxes we have ever heard is that owned by Frank Guarino at the LONE PINE INN on Sepulveda Blvd. in Wilmington. The instrument was made almost 75 years ago and has round metal "records" which are perforated to create the music of "Keep a Little Cory Corner in Your Heart," "Just Tell Them That You Saw Me" as well as the "Jubilee Cake Walk" and a number of minstrel numbers. Real fun to listen to while enjoying one of Frank's excellent New York steaks! . . . The entire wall of one dining room at SMITH BROS. INDIAN VILLAGE restaurant in Torrance is a huge illustrated map of the United States. But instead of cities and states, the mural shows areas originally inhabited by Indians, identifying all of the principal tribes and many of the minor ones.

Savings of more than $1 million a month to the taxpayers are made possible by the county's Community Work and Training program, according to the Los Angeles County Employees Assn.

GALA BALLET PERFORMANCE . . . Prima Ballerina Lois Smith and Premiere Dancer Earl Kraul head the famed National Ballet of Canada performing Thursday night in Santa Monica and Friday and Saturday nights in Pasadena.

TROPICAL "FEVER" . . . In the Chapel Theatre production of Tennessee Williams' "NIGHT OF THE IGUANA" presented each weekend through March, are (l to r) Duke Massey portraying Shannon and Connie Prudence as Charlotte.
