STAN DELAPLANE Try Mexican Gold Work, It's Better Than Silver

"Can you suggest shopping in Mexico, particularly silver? Should we bargain on prices?"

I think Mexican silver has gone up in price to the point that it's no longer a best buy. Place to buy is Taxco. Sprattling and Castillo have the best designs. But you find good pieces in other shops, too. If you are going to buy, go first class. Buy the best. There's a lot of junk silver around. And it looks that way when you get it home.

Bargain by all means. Most shops—and I think probably all—are marked up 10 to 30 per cent to pay off guides who steer you in. So go without the guide, even though he assures you he is taking you to his own brother's shop or a "wholesaler"—which he will say

Go alone and ask for a discount.

If you don't go to Taxco, best shops in Mexico City are around the Hotel Geneva and the shop called India Bonita downtown on Avenida Juarez.

A good buy, and one often overlooked, is Mexican gold work. And for that you buy in the jewelers' shops on Madero—the continuation of Avenida Juarez where it narrows down in the five block approach to the Zocolo, the main square of Mexico City.

"Can we ship things home safely from Mexico?"

The last things I shipped came in OK. (Since I had charged it on a Diner's Club card and didn't intend to pay until I got it, I took a chance.) However, I am still waiting for pottery I bought in 1939. Carry things back if you can.

"Could you suggest a restful, not expensive vacation in America? No driving?"

A few years ago, I took a Mississippi river boat. The Delta Queen is the only paddle wheel passenger boat on the river. It makes cruises off the Mississippi, too. The Ohio, the Missouri and so on. The food is good. The staterooms are comfortable. The boat nudges into the bank at occasional small river towns. Very quiet and the river scenery rolls by you from Cincinnati to New Orleans.

The 20-day cruise to New Orleans and back was about $350. I suppose it's gone up. But you can get a complete folder from Green Line Steamers, foot of Main Street, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

Math Exams Slated for Ten Seniors

Ten West High seniors will compete against students from seven western states in the Stanford University-sponsored competitive examination in mathematics Saturday in Santa Monica.

Adele Palmer, Harry Dunlop, Sheldon Edner, Alexandra Kostuck, William Slighter, Margo Redford, Roy Hubacek, Gary Loyd, Dennis Dodd, and Gerald Pointon will compete for the $500 award.

The examination will include plane and solid geometry, algebra, and trigonometry.

"We will have a rent car in Europe but wonder if foreign language signs will be difficult..."

Only place I found it hard was Germany where they were in German. All other countries (except England and Ireland) used easily understood symbols: The little car with zig-zag skid marks obviously means slippery road. The puffing train engine—unguarded crossing. The barred gates—a guarded crossing. The people who rent you the car should give you a folder showing all these.

Directional signs are all over. I never get lost even going through big towns. Continent distances are in kilometers. To get miles, multiply km. by six and drop the last digit: 40 km times 6 equals 240 or 24 miles. England and Ireland use miles and signs are in English.

"How do you determine postal rates while traveling in Europe please?"

I don't. I write the number of my hotel room on the envelope where the stamp how free are you?

Everybody is harnessed to something — driven by an idea, or the concept of life he holds. If it gives you a glimpse of God, then your harness is Truth, and it guides to the only freedom and fulfillment man can know. A famous poet once called it "Riding Easy in the Harness" — and this is the title of a public lecture by THOMAS A. McCLAIN, member of the Board of Lecturers of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
