

Spartans Speak

By Kathie Murray

Hello again! The design for the junior class ring has been chosen and it's really sharp. The oval design, emerald green stone and the "Spartan" shield make it one of the best rings that South has ever had. The designer, Margaret Briggs, will receive a free ring for her efforts.

Another idea has been suggested by sophomore class president Jonn Balow. He hopes that sophomores will be able to order their rings at the end of this school year. Thus they can wear them in their junior and senior years.

Today, 280 sophomores will attend the annual Career Guidance Conference. The conference assists students in planning for their future. It should prove to be a very rewarding experience.

TOMORROW, the El Camino choir will perform for the student body at an assembly. And, don't forget, Friday is the day for the Junior Class Show.

The one-act plays are over and the winner has been chosen. "An Over Praised Season," directed by Carol Lee, has taken top honors. The big test comes when the cast travels to Long Beach State for the finals on Friday, April 23. It's truly a great play and should do quite well.

On the east entrance wall of the administration building a nine foot long, seven foot tall trophy case is to be installed. The various South High Clubs donated $100 to defray the costs. So get ready to see all of our trophies on display.

MARLIN MUSE, activities advisor, has announced that there will be openings for three boys and two girls as yell leaders. Any girl may try for song queen, flag twirler, or majorette. Practices will be held on Tuesdays from 3:15 to 5 p.m. The competition is really tough this year so if you really want a position on the team the only sure way to get it is to work, work, work. Drill team practices are scheduled for every Wednesday.

As for sports, our baseball team is in first place, as is our tennis team. So what? It's great!!!

CONGRATULATIONS to Steve Kuchenbecker who received the "Most Valuable

'My Three Angels' Is South Play

"My Three Angels," a comedy by Sam and Belle Spewack, has been selected as the South High all-school play. Performances are planned May 14 and 15 on the Spartan campus.

Linda Barnes is directing a cast which includes Kimbreth Turner, Barbara Bingham, Michael Renz, Robert Stilwell, Richard Call, Lee Pelle, Robert Strayhan, Marie Housekeeper, Terri O'Halleran, and Joel Schneider.

The story concerns the antics of three convicts who escape from the famed French prison on Devils Island. Alta Yock is the student producer, while Ronald Childers, South High drama teacher, is in charge of the production.

Unitarians Plan for Expansion

The Pacific Unitarian Church, 2820 Cedarbluff Drive, this month celebrated its 8th birthday and launched a fund campaign to build a new church and school complex at 5621 Montemalaga Drive.

The congregation has expanded from 95 members in 1957 to 313 adults and 314 church school children today, according to George Glegghorn, chairman of the board.

"Suggestion Box" is really a big help. The newness has been worn off and serious suggestions are being made. Don't think that these suggestions are worthless because everything possible is being done to solve the problems you raise.

Whew! That's all for this week.

of directors and a charter member.

Families from 19 Southwest communities, San Pedro to El Segundo and Bellflower to Torrance, are being served by the church, according to the Rev. Alfred J. N. Henriksen, minister.

Mr. Henriksen said he hopes the new buildings, which will include a church meeting hall, a religious education building, an office and library, and storage and service units, will prove to be a focal point for church members and the general community.

HEADING THE BUILDING committee is Capt. Lee McGee of San Pedro. He will supervise construction of the new units to be located at 5621 Montemalaga Drive, near Basswood Avenue in the incorporated area of the Palos Verdes Peninsula.

Serving as chairman for the building fund campaign is H. Lee Rhodus, who will be assisted by Mrs. Milton Haut, Lou Kessler, Richard Snoddy, Charles Lawrence, Nick Christopoulos, Sutch Fink, Jack Lytle, Richard Richardson, Stanley Much, M. Lee McGee, George Glegghorn, Richard
