WHAT'S DOING?

Leonardo da Vinci is most noted for his paintings, the Mona Lisa. But did you know that he was also an architect and engineer? In fact, he even designed an airplane and a submarine. Another man of many talents was Alexander Graham Bell. For instance, he invented a system of air conditioning and a method of changing salt water to fresh. He even proposed an early version of today's iron lung. But like da Vinci, Bell is most noted for one thing—the invention of the telephone 89 years ago this month. Sure, a lot of changes have been made in telephones since 1876—and you'll see many more in the years ahead. But there'll always be the same good reason for every telephone change: to make your phone service even better than it was before.

Children say some pretty cute things. Here's one I think you'll enjoy as much as I did. A 2½-year-old girl wanted to talk long distance with her grandma. So she took her mother by the hand, led her to the phone, put her fingers on the dial and said, "You wind it, and I'll talk." I guess we're never too young to know how much fun it is to keep in touch by long distance.

Speaking of long distance, here's what to do if you should ever dial a wrong number out of town. Just ask the person you reach for the name of his city. Then let the operator know right away. She'll make sure you're not charged for the call.
