April Dedication for Marina del Rey Slated

Official dedication ceremonies for the Marina del Rey small craft harbor will be held April 10 at 10:30 a.m. The ceremonies will launch a 10-day "Mardi Gras" celebration at the harbor, according to Burton W. Chace, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

An invitation has been extended to the public and to county and municipal officials to attend the dedication, Chace said. Ceremonies will be held at the Harbor Administration Building on Fiji Way.

"These ceremonies," Chace said, "will provide an excellent opportunity for the Board of Supervisors to express its appreciation to those groups which have assisted in the development of Marina del Rey into the largest man-made small craft harbor in the world."

SAILBOAT races, boat parades, and other special events have been planned. Finals of the California Yacht Club sailboat races will be held April 11.

The harbor has been designed to provide anchorage for 6,000 small pleasure craft, dry storage for 2,000 trailer-borne boats, 4,500 apartment units, a complete shopping center, and other facilities to support a permanent population of 10,000. Seasonal population may be as high as 30,000, Chace said.

A beach area with picnic tables, a quiet swimming lagoon, and ample parking have been included in the overall harbor development.

Horizon Club Members Attend Area Conference

Five Torrance girls and their advisor were among more than 500 Horizon Club members and advisors from Southern California, Arizona, and Southern Nevada who attended the regional conference in Santa Barbara.

Misses Nancy Davis, Kathy Hansen, and Kathleen MacRae, representing the Okita Horizon Club, and Eva Lippman and Linda Salisbury from the Kleka Horizon Club attended the conference. Mrs. James A. Davis, advisor to the Okita Horizon Club, accompanied the girls.

Dr. Leo Buscaglia, supervisor of special services for the Pasadena City Schools, delivered the keynote address. Horizon Club members presented a brief history and purpose of Horizon Clubs and the Camp Fire Girls.

Seminars limited to 25 girls were held. Miss MacRae led two of the discussions. Topics included moral values, inner resources, human rights, and leadership.

... Assessor

Continued from Page E-2) was computed, the city fathers proudly pointed to a three cent reduction in the rate. The inference was that they had held down spending by cutting the rate. The fact, however, was that they voted to collect an extra $150,000 in property taxes, but because the city assessment roll had increased 14 per cent, they could collect 10 per cent more taxes and still show a rate reduction.

The public is further confused in this numbers' game by the use of words like "reduction" or "increase" which set off conditioned reflexes in his mind. A reduction sounds good, but he must learn how to ask "How good?" A one-cent change in a tax rate means only a difference of 10 cents on every thousand dollars of assessed value. The three-cent tax rate reduction we were discussing would only save the average homeowner with a house assessed at $4,000 the grand total of $1.20.

If property were only taxed by one agency, the taxpayer would have a fighting chance in the game. He could first determine whether his assessment had been fairly set at 25 per cent of market value, and petition for a change if it hadn't been. Then he could turn his attention to whether he was getting his money's worth for the tax dollars he was paying out.

But there are some 500 taxing agencies in the County, each with the power to tax a piece of property within the boundaries of its district. The typical tax bill shows at least six separate tax rates. When the taxpayer complains about the combined burden of all of these taxes, everyone starts pointing a finger in some other direction.

In the tax rate game, the taxpayer is always the loser.

Peanut Sale In Progress At School

Students at Bonita Street School are ringing doorbells this week to raise funds for several special projects.

It isn't a handout, however, that the students are seeking. Instead, they'll trade you even money for peanuts.

Under the direction of Ray Adams and Jerry Regnier, the students will sell peanuts which have been packaged in reusable cans.

An award system has been devised to provide some incentive for the classes. The class showing the most creativity in sales will win a special award.

ADULTS IN SCHOOL
Adults attending California high schools and junior colleges now total 587,000, up 6 per cent over last year.

Book About Grand Jury In Library

A 10-page brochure on the workings of the Los Angeles County Grand Jury will soon be available for study through each of the 91 city and community libraries of the Los Angeles County Public Library system, according to County Librarian William S. Geller.

The brochures were made available to the County Library by the Board of Supervisors, on motion of Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

Now being sent to all County Library outlets, the brochure will be added to each library's collection of material on local government.

The document was written by Maurice A. Park, chairman of the law enforcement and custodial committee, past Grand Jurors Association of Los Angeles County.

THE BROCHURE explains how members of the Grand Jury are selected, lists the Grand Jury procedures, indictment and the power and duties of Grand Jurors.

Copies of the brochure are also being made available to other public libraries throughout Los Angeles County.

"The information contained in this document should be known by every citizen. I am sure that it will be most helpful to our children who are studying civics and government as well as to many adults who wish to learn more about law enforcement and the judicial processes," Geller said.
