

Young Fisherman Dozes, Lands Prize Fish

While fishing at Salton Sea last Saturday, John Bell began to doze off when suddenly his rod and reel popped out of his hands. It was a half hour later, after John plunged into the water in search of his gear, that he found the end of the rod floating about. This time it was the fish on the other end of the line awakened by the intruding angler, and the battle was on. Unable to shake loose from the line, the hefty 20-pound Corvina splashed in and out of the water in spectacular display as several fishermen gathered around to watch the show. Bell, 19, of 26614 Pacific Coast Highway, finally won the shakedown and bagged the second 20-pound Corvina on record. A member of the Torrance Rod and Gun Club, John becomes a candidate for the state's Button Award later in the year. He used a 15 weight mono line and a Penn Jig Master reel, and had a mudsucker for bait.

Tennis Team Unbeaten at El Camino

El Camino's tennis team, boasting a 9-0 season record, will be host to powerful Valley College Friday afternoon at 2:30. El Camino came out on top, 5-4, in the first meeting between both teams. Feature of the return match will be first singles which pits eight time winner Irwin Bledstein against Valley's Bob Hart.
