Review 'Charley' Is Great

The Long Beach Civic Light Opera production of "Where's Charley?" is community theater at its best.

Sparked by veteran Bill Beadle who portrays the dual roles of the flighty Charley Wykeham and his giddy aunt, the comedy keep the audiences rollicking. Beadle gets a professional assist from Arthur Carah and the two of them provide several hilarious scenes.

More than adequate in their parts are Diane Payrow, Carol Harton, Phil Haynes, and Jack Bacon.

Betty Kimber's costuming, Jack Kroesen's baton, and Bob Brownell's dance routines round out a show that would do credit to any professional troupe.

Performances continue in the Long Beach Auditorium's Concert Hall Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evening and on Sunday afternoon—R.L.B.

Over the TABLE TOPS

There's great excitement in Waleria these days! Next Thursday, May 13, the new JAMAICA WEST opens its intriguing doors to the melodies of Glenn Grey and The Greyman! MacDonald and Page, who are the bossmen at the JAMAICA WEST in Waleria on Pacific Coast Highway, are planning on making the spot really jump, besides Grey and the Greyman they will have the best of Discotheque and you can watch or participate in those wild dances—the Watusi, Jerk, Frug, Swim, Hunch or what have you. Looks like "happy days are here again!" starting May 13 at the JAMAICA WEST.

AQUI, AMIGOS. At the CASA MARTIN on Redondo Beach Blvd. they pride themselves on their excellent service and fine Mexican cuisine. If you haven't had their Car-Azada, you've really missed a delicious dish.
