Democrats Make Plans For Rally

Members of the Shoestring Democratic Club will meet Monday at the home of William and Lucille Wilson, 21115 S. Hobart St., to discuss plans for a "Swinging Shoestrings" barbecue and candidate rally.

Carol Greenberg, Mary Pearson, and Richard Colbary will report on the rally, which will be held Sunday, May 15, at the Hillcrest Patio, 1517 W. Anaheim St., Harbor City.

Harold Garvin, a professor of political science at Harbor College and candidate for the Democratic nomination for the State Senate in the 32nd District, will be guest of honor at the rally. The Shoestring club has endorsed Garvin for the Democratic nomination.

Candidates in the Democratic primary from the 68th Assembly District and the 17th Congressional District also have been invited to the rally.

All registered Democrats are invited to attend Monday's planning session, the Wilsons said.

Ann Landers Says

College Flame Dims In Home Atmosphere

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have eight lovely children. Last night we were discussing the eldest. She is a very attractive girl and is doing exceptionally well in her studies. Naturally we are proud of her.

In the course of the conversation, my husband leaned back in his chair and said, "Yes, she is a lovely girl. And nothing would please me more than to see her grow up to be just like my sister."

My husband's sister is a fine person and we are good friends, but I was deeply hurt by his remark and I told him so. He said I was silly and that you would agree with him. Do you? — PEACHES

Dear Peaches: No, I don't. Your husband was tactless in the extreme. I wonder how he would have liked it if your eldest son had been under discussion, and you had said, "I hope he grows up to be just like my brother." Ask him and see what he says.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 20-year-old daughter phoned from college to say she was bringing a young man home for the weekend. She said she was considering becoming engaged, which was a surprise to us.

When we met them at the bus depot Friday night we were shocked that the boy didn't have a suitcase. He came with only the clothes on his back. He had no pajamas, no clean shirt — not even a shaving kit. He asked my husband if he could borrow his razor because "he didn't have time to pack anything."

We had relatives over Saturday and the boy didn't even stand up when he was introduced to aunts and uncles. His manners were appalling.

and his conversation was so stupid I couldn't understand what our daughter saw in him. Her father was so upset that he was tempted to ask the boy to leave. I begged him to be quiet.

Before they returned to school Sunday morning our daughter apologized for bringing him home and thanked us for our patience. We were very much relieved and wanted to know what cooled her off so fast. I thought love was blind. — GRATEFUL

Dear Grateful: Love may be blind but it's not deaf and dumb. Seeing the boy in her home atmosphere made your daughter realize that he was a creep.

You were wise not to let on about your feelings. If you had tipped your hand your daughter would have been forced to defend him and the battle would have been joined.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old girl. My mother is a true alcoholic, but she won't admit it. She refuses to get help. Mom and dad get into terrible fights and more than once I have gotten beaten up because I tried to separate them.

There are never any meals in our house unless I make them. I have to do all the laundry and cleaning, too. My 20-year-old brother moved out seven months ago and he has a nice apartment. He wants me to leave this nut house and move in with him. We are the only kids in the family so I wouldn't be leaving any little brothers or sisters.

The constant yelling and fighting is making a wreck out of me. Please tell me what to do. — SHAKING

Dear Shaking: Call Al-

holics Anonymous. (Look in the phone book.) Find out where the next meeting of Alateen will be held. After you attend six meetings, if you still want to move out of the house I say O.K., provided you are not considered a minor in your state.

When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Office for Lyman in San Pedro

Opening of a harbor area campaign headquarters in San Pedro was announced today by David K. Lyman, Democratic candidate in the 32nd Senatorial District.

An opening day party was held yesterday at the headquarters, located at 1210 Gaffey St. in San Pedro.

Volunteer staff members, who will man the office from noon to 6:00 p.m. daily, have begun a get-out-the-vote campaign throughout the area, which includes San Pedro, Wilmington, Harbor City, Long Beach, and portion of Long Beach.

Robert Wiley and Marion Page, both long-time San Pedro residents, have been named directors of the office. Mrs. Raymond Sinetar, also of San Pedro, will be executive administrator.

Officers Elected By Board

Walter B. Schepmann of the Retail Clerks Association in Harbor City has been re-elected chairman of the board of the Harbor Area United Way.

Serving as vice chairmen of the board are Municipal Court Judge Raymond Choate, first vice chairman; Elmer Wasson of Pacific Telephone, second vice chairman, and Mrs. Ward Keller of Palos Verdes Estates, third vice president.

Mrs. Lloyd Cook of Palos Verdes was selected secretary of the Harbor Area board. Representatives to the countywide board of directors of United Way are Max M. Weinberg of the Community Hospital of Gardena and H. Ted Olson, Union Carbide Corp. personnel officer and a Torrance City Councilman.

Six new board members were selected. They are Mrs. Mildred Chubb, a Gardena homemaker; Father J. Augustine O'Gorman, pastor of St. James Catholic Church of Redondo Beach; Ford Watson, Palos Verdes Properties Co.; John Hopkins, manager of the Union Oil Co. in Wilmington; Ron Schiavazzi, Gardena, and Morgan Williams, plant manager of Shell Chemical Co.'s Torrance facility.

NOW PLAYING... Lou Bruhnke and Darlene Chaffee are pictured in a scene from Tennessee Williams' "The Rose Tattoo," now playing at Chapel Theatre, 4164 W. Pacific Coast Hwy. Bruhnke, who portrays Alvaro in the play, also is directing the production. Mrs. Chaffee plays the role of Serafina.

AT CHAPEL... Phyllis Monda of Lomita and Rick Gates of Rolling Hills are pictured in a scene from Chapel Theatre's production of "The Rose Tattoo." The Tennessee Williams play will continue its weekend run at Chapel Theatre, 4164 W. Pacific Coast Hwy., through May 14. Curtain is 8:30 p.m.

Chapel Theatre Play Continues

Chapel Theatre's production of Tennessee Williams' "The Rose Tattoo," which opened April 15, will continue through May 14.

Reservations for the play may be made by calling the box office, 372-9636. Curtain is 8:30 p.m. Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays.

Directing the production is Lou Bruhnke of Hermosa Beach, who also is starring in the male lead as Alvaro. Darlene Chaffee of Seal Beach is portraying the difficult role of Serafina, the passionate and emotional woman who has mourned the death of her husband for three years.

Alvaro's appearance causes Serafina to see "the body of my husband and the head of a clown," but it brings back the spark of her life.

Others in the cast are Phyllis Monda of Lomita as Serafina's daughter, Rosa, and Rick Gates of Rolling Hills as Jack, Rosa's young lover. In supporting roles are Connie Farrell of Hawthorne, Ruth Beaudry of Harbor City, Helen Borst of Palos Verdes, Helen Wyatt of Gardena, and Esther Drake of San Pedro.

Completing the cast is Lois Cummings of Palos Verdes, Tommy Black of Redondo Beach, Billie Tony Galleran of Palos Verdes, Janetta Held of Torrance, Michael Gathier of Hermosa Beach, Dwight Dunaway of Redondo Beach, Phil Edmundson of Lomita, and Earl Meredith of Venice.

Doris Johnson heads the backstage crew as producer of "The Rose Tattoo." Helping her are Barbara Zaslove, script manager; Edd Linskey and George Bingham, light designers; Dana Anderson and Linskey, light technicians; Phyllis Palmer, set designer, and Lynda Gorchester, sound manager. Props being handled by Billie Galleran, Lorraine Anderson, and Miss Zaslove.

Absentee Ballots Available

Absentee voters who want to vote on a $9 million Torrance school bond issue in the June 7 election may obtain absentee ballots beginning May 9.

Forms will be available through May 31 from the County Registrar of Voters, 808 N. Spring St., Los Angeles, 90012.

Ballots must be returned by 5 p.m. Monday, June 6. Absentee voters include people who will be out of town on election day or those physically unable to go to the polls.

The local school bond issue will be held at the same time as the California state primary election.

COUNT MARCO

Try Being a Blonde and Live

What do you suppose was the very first thing a party girl did when she decided to give up a variety of paying propositions for a single proposal of marriage? She changed her hair style.

At least that's what Britain's Christine Keeler, the play-around girl of the Profumo scandals, did. She said, upon marrying, "I want to start a fresh life. I have changed the style of my hair."

If a change in hair style can make an honest woman of a many-splendored plaything, think what it could do for you who have remained honest, but not very splendid.

It is constantly amazing to me, the number of you who never pay the slightest bit of attention to your crowning glory. In fact, your hair usually looks more like a crown of thorns than something to glory over.

A woman who does something about her hair is a woman who cares. A new hair style can perform any number of wonders for you. Not too surprisingly, a style which is going to do the most good is not something you can project regularly into a do-it-yourself project.

Some of you, perhaps, are talented enough to copy a dress pattern and produce a work of professional pride, or you may have a genius for making your hats or even personal jewelry, but when it comes to hair, you must have it set by an expert, otherwise the results are the usual unflattering mess.

More women drying their hourly tears and sniffing into their handkerchiefs because they know their husbands are bored with them should face the facts.

A restyling of the hair to change not only your appearance but your personality, with a completely new and fascinating hair color, is much cheaper than a divorce attorney.

Don't ask your friends or your husband for advice. There is no better therapy for the run-down woman who has lost interest in herself and her surroundings than a restyling of the hair. Certainly it costs money, but so do doctors and lawyers.

If you look like a mess and act like a mess, it is because you are a mess. He takes a look and KNOWS you're a mess.

Do something drastic and see what a dramatic change it makes in your otherwise dull life. The more years you have been married the more dangerously you should live. Besides, if you've never been a blonde or a redhead, you've not really lived, let alone loved.
