

DINNERTIME SMOOTHIE . . . That's Bill Cooper who puts out some of the smoothest and listenable pianoing you'll hear in the main dining salon of the Galley West Restaurant at Marineland, nitely. Plays a tinkling piano that makes you hear without specifically listening while enjoying your evening repast.

'Rose Tattoo' Sets Final Performance for Saturday

Final performances of 4164 W. Pacific Coast Hwy. Chapel Theatre's production of Tennessee Williams' "The Rose Tattoo" are scheduled Friday and Saturday evenings.

The theatre is located at 4164 W. Pacific Coast Hwy. Curtain time for both performances is 8:30 o'clock. The production stars Darlene Chaffee of Seal Beach in the role of Serafina and Phyllis Monda of Lomita and Rick Gates of Rolling Hills as the young lovers. Director Lou Bruhnke of Hermosa Beach is featured as Alvaro. Reservations for both the Friday and Saturday performances may be made by calling the box office at 372-9636.

Spot Checking

Food ★ Fun ★ Frolic
By Bill Whitman

But you don't have to hunt too long or too hard for superb dining, top-quality entertainment and a congenial atmosphere.

In addition to boasting one of the finest dinner houses in the South Bay area, The Hunting Horn at the corner of Hawthorne and Silver Spur Road in Peninsula Center is rapidly becoming one of the leading spots around here for the jazz buffs.

Currently featured for dancing and listening enjoyment, Tuesday through Saturday nites is the Mike Melvoin Trio and a swinging group it is, too, consisting of piano, bass and drums.

Mike, who is quite a recording artist in his own right, was recently seen on the Art Linkletter Hollywood Talent Show, Bill Goodwin, Jr. and his drums who is very high on the jazz list, appeared on the Johnny Carson Show last week and Jim Huggart has been doing the arranging for Ella Fitzgerald so you can easily see, we've got no Charlie-Charlie-lates in the musical world in this trio.

Charles Murchison takes over the keyboard Sunday nites.

Now then in the culinary department, putting out that mouth-watering menu daily it's the chef de cuisine, Roger Ste Marie who for nine years served in the same capacity at Tractons in Los Angeles.

And speaking of The Chef brings to mind the excellent banquet facilities that are available at The Hunting Horn. Keep this spot in mind for your next soiree.

With talent like the foregoing plus a giant cocktail hour swinging from 3 to 7 Tuesday through Friday when all regular drinks go off at sixty cents a copy, you've got to know, this store moves. With all this activity going it's hard to think that genial maitre'd Larry Weems is to have an addition to his family. But then, it's not Larry that's having the baby — it's Mrs. Weems . . . we presume! Not too far off, either.

And just in passing we might mention that no longer do you have the hassle you used to have getting to Peninsula Center, now that Hawthorne is open all the way through. Timed it just the other nite and from the San Diego Freeway it's a short ten minute ride. Mgr. Bill McLaughlin and co-owner Ted Strangman want you to keep this in mind when next you get The Hunting Horn urge.

Well cats, it's here again! That time of the year when all the great and near-great of the mix-o-magic world get their respective heads and favorite concoctions together to see who's the best.

What else than the 18th Annual Cocktail Competition of the Calif. Bartenders Guild when they meet on May 23 at the International Hotel here in Los Angeles.

There's to be approximately 70 of the top flight mix-masters of California competing on that day and as usual, it'll be a swingin' thing all that day, the winner, whose "mix-up" is judged the best, to represent the United States in the International mix-off in Spain next year.

Just where one of our favorite mixologists will place is hard to say but somehow, Kenny Decker manages to come "in the money" somewhere. Hope to see a whole bunch of you there as there'll be a whole bunch of the guys you know personally who'll be in competition. (Hm-m-m, wonder if the parlor-variety concoctionists are invited to compete . . .)

Say, you talk about a treat fit for a king, this's exactly what you get at Mario Castagnola's beautiful Lobster House on the Marina in Redondo Beach.

We felt in the mood for seafood so ordered a special preparation of lobster that was the most delicious we've yet tasted. Not Wewberg nor Thermador but something prove the authenticity of this offer and all ye who are interested in entering into the spirit of things for prizes, just address your letters to the Fox Peninsula Theatre, 27735 Silver Spur Road, Peninsula Center, Palos Verdes, and they'll be duly noted and recorded.

The action is to take place May 18th, 19th and 21st. So like, come one — come all and show off your talents. And we know there's lots of it up there!

Both dishes came with all the regular fixings and enough can't be said or written about it, it's that good — both dishes. These are specialties of the house that you must try in order to fully appreciate such exquisite cuisine. Truly the epitome in culinary artistry. Get the Castagnola habit.

Hey, you like kicks? Well one good kick in the area is to sort of do a fast sneak some afternoon down to the Plush Ho'se Restaurant on Pacific Coast Highway in Hollywood Riviera and catch the nite crew on the stand doing a bit of rehearsing. That's the Jack Russell Trio who appear there nitely for dancing and listening. But in the afternoon, you kind of catch 'em with their orchestrations down, so to speak. It'll also give you a little insight as to just how exacting these cats are when it comes to their music. Perfectionists, that's what they are, these cats!

When the east meets the west (that's East United States and West Europe) you've got a couple of guys who put out tunes that are not only unique in sound but loaded with talent and entertainment. They're Ralph Young of New York and Tony Sandler, a Belgian native; a deep bass and a golden baritone, respectively.

They opened at the Riviera Hotel's Starlite Theatre last Wednesday nite to a house packed with a glittering array of Hollywood stars, following a series of TV dates including the Ed Sullivan Show, the "Today," et al, shortly after their debut in Lake Tahoe.

Here now, is a highly entertaining duo but just how long their booking is we don't know so next time you take off for Vegas, be sure you've nailed down reservations for this attraction.

Just talked with Roy Gordon up at the Fox Peninsula Theatre in Peninsula Center this afternoon (remember, this is Monday that this is being written) and he's got a thing going up there for all you talented gals and guys in two age groups — 6 to 13 and 14 to 21.

Y'know, the Fifth Annual Peninsula Center Show is upcoming and Mr. Gordon is looking for local talent with which to spark this gala occasion.

It's no gimmick! It's bonafide and is backed up with CASH PRIZES just to further prove the authenticity of this offer and all ye who are interested in entering into the spirit of things for prizes, just address your letters to the Fox Peninsula Theatre, 27735 Silver Spur Road, Peninsula Center, Palos Verdes, and they'll be duly noted and recorded.

The action is to take place May 18th, 19th and 21st. So like, come one — come all and show off your talents. And we know there's lots of it up there!

ECC Show To Close Saturday

Virtual sell-out performances are expected this weekend as "110 in the Shade," El Camino College's spring musical production, enters its final week in the Campus Theater.

The story, set in the arid country of the Midwest, is enlivened by love and blind faith in the impossible as a rainmaking con man arrives in the musical version of N. Richard Nash's "The Rainmaker."

Critics have acclaimed "110 in the Shade" to be one of El Camino's greatest efforts, going so far as to compare it with such earlier presentations as the college's version of "South Pacific."

The show's final performance will be staged Saturday night, May 14, in the Campus Theater.

With ticket sales high, it is suggested that the public contact the Student Store of the Campus Center to determine the availability of seats.

Telephone ticket orders may still be held for 24 hours. Reserved seats are $1.50.

Sun Shades Installed at Adult Club

Sun shades have been installed over six shuffleboard courts at the Torrance Adult Center by the Employees Club at Armco Steel Corp.'s Torrance plant.

The project, a Founders Day project for the Employees Club, was initiated in mid-April. Funds for the sun shades were raised by the Employees Club and members spent two weekends performing the work.

The local Employees Club is composed of employees at the National Supply Division of Armco.

The Torrance Adult Club, located at 1318 Cravens Ave., provides recreational facilities for many of Torrance's senior citizens.

Shoestring Club Sets 'Carousel'

A Candidates' Carousel will be held at Hillcrest Nursery Patio, 1517 W. Anaheim St., Harbor City, Sunday from 2 until 10 p.m. The meeting is sponsored by the Shoestring Democratic Club.

All Democratic candidates for the State Senate and the Assembly, as well as for Congress, in the Southwest area have been invited, according to Harry Miner, president of the sponsoring club.

An open fire barbecue dinner will be served and there will be dancing and entertainment, Miner said. "Nothing will cost more than $2.50," he added, "and some will be much less."

Mrs. Lucille Wilson is chairman of the arrangement committee for the event.

Demo Clubs To Sponsor Dinner Here

William O'Leary, a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 17th Congressional District, will be the guest of honor at a spaghetti dinner Thursday, May 19.

The dinner, sponsored by Torrance Democrats, Inc., and the Spirit of 76 Democratic Club, will be held at the Torrance Labor Temple, 1316 Border Ave., beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Tickets are available at $1 each for "all you can eat."

Airman Danny R. Munsee, son of Mrs. Wanda L. Christensen of 1310 W. 227th St., has been selected for training at Amarillo AFB, Tex., as an Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist.

The airman, a 1965 graduate of Narbonne High School, recently completed his basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.
