

CROWDED FACILITY ... Madrona Elementary School's student service center is pictured here. The facility, like many in the Torrance schools, was built to serve 10 teachers and now serves as a lunch room and work room for 28 teachers who instruct some 960 students. Board of Education President William J. Hanson (center, standing) said bond funds will be used to increase the size of such facilities if Torrance voters approve a $9 million school bond issue June 7.

Board Member Cites Four Areas of Need for Bonds

Bottommost item on the ballot for Torrance voters at the June 7 primary election is a $9 million school bond issue which is labeled Proposition FF.

Uppermost in the minds of Torrance voters, however, is the question, "Where will the bond money go?"

William Hanson, president of the Torrance Board of Education, points out four areas where bond funds will be used:

- To build additional elementary classrooms.
- To equalize facilities at the district's four high schools.
- To provide facilities for the departmentalized programs at the city's elementary schools.
- To purchase land and build two more schools.

ALMOST HALF the total funds will be used at the city's four high schools, Hanson said.

Additions planned for the industrial arts facility, rehabilitation and additions to the multipurpose building, and bleacher seating and restroom facilities at North High.

Building elementary classrooms and schools to house the population which is growing at the rate of 1,200 to 1,500 students a year will account for more than a third of the bond issue, Hanson said.

At the Bay League track finals, which were held at South, we did exceedingly well. Eleven members of the team qualified for CIF competition and overall, South came in second place. Outstanding performances were achieved by Lenny Jay, who came in first in the 2-mile run and set a league record and Dave Cronk, who soared to 14 feet 6 inches and also set a record. Dave's pole vaulting was greatly aided by the newly purchased landing cushion.

IT'S HERE! Elections will be held Friday for next year's ASB, class and league officers. Song queen and cheerleaders will also be elected. An assembly today will introduce all the candidates, and those aspiring to be a president will give a speech. Everyone should be sure to vote, in order to insure a representative student government.

THE OBSCURE Math Club of South High with its 13 members, is having a special activity next Monday. It is a math contest of brain power against West High School. First there will be the Mad Hatter, which requires lightning-fast calculations, and then there will be assorted games: Nim, Hex, and 3-dimensional tic-tac-toe. The winning school will be awarded an eight-dollar, gold-plated, glittering trophy.

The California Scholarship Federation is holding a banquet next Wednesday. Among the awards given will be life membership certificates, lamp pins, tutoring awards, and the annual CSF scholarship. Dr. Verling Kersey will be speaking on the theme "Positive Ideas For 1966." All members are being urged to come, since this is the last CSF activity of the year. Only Four Weeks Left Of School!
