Pippy Star of New El Camino Production

"Pippi Longstocking" made her debut Friday in the El Camino College Campus Theater. As she only plans to stay until Sunday, it is suggested that a 75 cent ticket be purchased as soon as possible.

Leading her crew of friends and would-be do-gooders over every mole hill that comes into view, Miss Longstocking keeps spirits high with a phrase that might well rejuvenate the hearts of those who have outgrown the optimism of youth. "I'll always come out on top."

One of the best-known and best-loved characters in children's literature, Pippi was created in the mind of Astrid Lindgren and brought to life by dramatist Elizabeth Case.

While at El Camino Miss Longstocking will be portrayed by Louise Kassebaum with Judy Vanlandingham playing Annika, her next-door neighbor, and Tim Oening taking the part of Tommy, Annika's brother. All are under the direction of Dr. Howard M. Banks, drama instructor at El Camino.

Joy Pottle Recital Set For Saturday

Vet Insurance Plan Readied

Applications for life insurance under the home protection plan of the Department of Veterans Affairs are being mailed out with the June 1 statements to California veterans who are aged 65 or older and who are purchasing their homes or farms with a Cal-Vet loan.

State Director of Veterans Affairs Joseph M. Farber announced last month that the older California veteran would become eligible for the insurance on June 1. He estimates that about 2,000 will qualify immediately.

Farber pointed out that the new coverage for persons who could otherwise be uninsurable is possible because of the solvency and huge reserve of the Cal-Vet Farm and Home Program.

Joy Pottle, a Los Angeles trained, but presently New York based pianist, will present a special piano recital for faculty and students of the California State College at Palos Verdes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bialosky of Palos Verdes Estates Saturday evening. Miss Pottle is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Pottle, a teacher at the Montemalaga Elementary School and a resident of San Pedro.

Miss Pottle has given solo recitals in New York City, Boston, and Washington, and has performed at the summer festivals at Tanglewood, Marlboro, and Aspen. She has appeared in California with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Pasadena Symphony, and the San Diego Symphony.

Miss Pottle will play music by Bach, Mozart, Scriabin, Rachmaninoff, and Copland.
