Realtors Support Move To Repeal Rumford Act

The California Real Estate Association (CREA) endorses the move to repeal the Rumford Act through an initiative, CREA president Burt Smith of Bellflower said today.

"We are already in a fight, defending Proposition 14 in the courts," Smith said, "and that a statewide group known as the California Property Owners and Tenants Committee, with Frank P. Doherty, a Los Angeles attorney, as chairman, was planning such an initiative."

"IN THE meantime, we're glad to know that there are still stalwart individuals in California who will act to repeal the Rumford Act. We have great respect for Mr. Doherty and his public spirit."

"CREA endorses completely the activity of his group and further pledges its assistance wherever we can give it."

ACCORDING TO the report, Doherty's committee is considering qualifying an initiative for the November ballot. It would be an indirect initiative, requesting the State Legislature to repeal the Rumford Act. If the legislature does not, the measure would then go to the people for a vote.

The Rumford Act forbids most property owners from choosing the buyers or renters of their property on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, or ancestry.
