

Table with multiple columns containing property addresses, parcel numbers, and land information. The table is organized into several vertical sections, each with its own header row. The data includes street names, lot numbers, and other identifying details for various parcels.