By Adeline Daley

I don't know how you feel about the theory that rock 'n roll music is the teen-ager's way of showing defiance—or maybe revenge—against "an adult world" they didn't create, but right now I'm worried sick that I might have robbed them of their natural birthright.

Is it my fault that I can't refrain from tapping my feet every time I hear the Rolling Stones or want to get up and dance the Frug in the living room to Sam the Sham and the Pharaohs' version of "Little Red Riding Hood?" (You can bet from behind drawn drapes, which my kids rush to close every time I start to perform).

I can almost hear them plead, "Gee, Mom, why don't you prefer Guy Lombardo or Robert Goulet like other mothers?" And I suppose lought to tend to studying grocery prices and let the disc jockeys keep track of the "tog

But that's why I was so relieved to read the other day that many serious music critics feel there is a message in rock 'n roll.

Splendid' I thought, at least now my children can enjoy the advantage of being young enough to understand the "deeper meaning" in the records and albums of Sonny and Cher, Peter and Gordon, Simon and Garfunkel, Chad and Jeremy, because the only "message" I'm able to decode is that they probably make more money than Sears Roebuck. And more power to them.

Moreover, in my adult mind I find it fairly difficult to picture any of the rock 'n roll singers as they portray themselves in their lyrics—sad, lonely, rejected, ill-clad, pushed-around kids. Yes, I know.

Surrounded by managers, business agents, law-yers, public relations departments, music arrang-ers and an entourage of bodyguards, chauffeurs, hair-stylists, masseurs, court jesters and a million dollars.

But if there is a "hidden meaning" in rock 'n roll, my kids aren't aware of it either because, as they maintain, they never pay that much attention to the lyrics. (Of course, my kids would dance to the phone directory if the tempo was right and loud enough).

There must be somebody, however, who could give me at least a hint when he waxes forth poetically on the back of one of his album covers: "Autumn with two zeros above her nose arguing over the sun being dark or Bach is as famous as its commotion and that she herself—not Orpheus is the logical, etc etc."

Even I can't dance the Frug to that.

NORTHAM-ZIEMAN
Torrance First Baptist Church was the setting for the evening wedding July 22, in which Miss Linda J.
Northam of Whittier, formerly of Torrance, became the bride of James E. Zieman, son of Mrs. Hazel Zieman of Whittier. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Northam of Hawaii, former Torrance resident.
Rev. Robert Dehn escorted the bride to the altar.
She wore an empire gown
of white lace fashioned with a train. Her four tier veil cascaded from a pearl and lace headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis atop a white lace covered Bible.
In lime green gowns, at-

(Seeman Portrait)
erly Burnham, Janis Bruck, sandra Turnage and Mrs.
Ruth Dyer, Cathy Burnham
was flower girl.
Michael Zieman performed
the duties of best man.
Ushers were James White,
Curtis Counts and Jerry
Dyer, Barry Munz was ring bearer.
Rev. Robert Colburn officiated at the vow exchange
as Mrs. Pat Ou wen dijk played the nuptial music.
Ted Carrington was soloist.
A reception was held at the church and the honeymoon was spent in San Francisco. The new home will be in Whittier.
The bride, granddaughter of Mrs. H. H. Rowley of Colton, is a graduate of Torrance High school.
Her husband was graduated from Pioneer High in Whittier and Cal Poly at Pomona.

Engagement

Hope Unit

Giant Sale

Tomorrow

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Carnahan of Whittier announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter. Charlene, to Charles Kenneth Andrews, South Baynight club owner and builder. City of Hope, Sam Levy Chapter of Torrance, will hold it semi-annual rum-mage sale on Aug. 18 and 19 at 25408 Crenshaw Blvd., Rolling Hills Plaza, Tor-er.

The wedding will take place at the Wayfarers' Chapel in Portuguese Bend this afternoon at 4:30 p.m.

The couple will entertain at a reception immediately following the ceremony at their Point Fermin home.

Rolling Hills Plaza, Torrance.

This will be a repeat sale of new and used items offered at bargain prices. Sale hours are from 9:30 am, to i p.m. both days. The public is invited to take advantage of the sale to secure clothing for the entire family. Also offered will be household items, bric-a-brac and miscellaneous articles.

Anyone having items to donate is asked to call Barbara Erickson.

The rummage sale is one of the chapter's fund-raising events to support the City of Hope Medical Center at Duarte for the study and treatment of catastrophic diseases. Las Vegas Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bash and two children left Monday for their home in Las Vegas after spending four days here with Mrs. Bash's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Huffine, 3022 Antonio.

At Running Springs Spending a week at their cabin at Running Springs
are Mr. and Mrs. Phil Patten and their guests, Mrs.
Margaret Lennon and Mrs.
Avon Rankin.

PV Fuchsia Club Will Hear Speaker

Edward McSorley, Wise-

Edward McSorley, Wise-burn Fuchsia Branch of CNFS, will be guest speaker at the Palos Verdes Fuchsia Club meeting at Walteria Recreation Center at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Aug. 22. Featured will be slides from Descanso Garden Tour and the Arboretum at Ar-cadia. Mr. McSorley will also show slides of Fuchsia Gar-dens and patios for garden ideas.

Family Vacation
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McCusker and daughters, Mary Ann and Jeannie, have returned from a two weeks vacation trip to their former home Park City, Utah. They also visited with relatives and old friends in Utah and Idaho and made a tour of Yellowstone National Park.
Mr. McCusker is vice principal of North High.

Pre

Par

Brie

Mrs. Bailey ored M bride-e eral p surpris shower 1.

Tabl pink a hanced piece. lighted made orated Mrs. F The Mrs. David Beach; rance; bello; Mrs. Glaze, Frank E Evereigifts attend Mrs. Clovis attend Mrs. Clovis closed from the mrs. Clovis cl

Mr taine ploye bridg at he St., Th luncl lowe bridg Mrs., high Clari Gumer Pat

DOUG'S Hair Fashions

FAMOUS

BUDGET

COLD WAVE

595

10% Frosting Roux Fanci-Tone 61

Roux Fanci-Full Color Rinse 100 Virgin Bleaching 1250 Touch-Up with Toner 1250

$25 Glamour Curl 13°5 $35 Regal Curl 17%

A Salon of Hair Fashion Des OPEN ON SUNDAYS Open Day & Night & A.M. to Midnight

TORRANCE 008 W. Carson 328-9930

2518 W. Ros 327-7350

MEAT

SHOPPE

In lime green gowns, at-tendants were Misses Bev-

NORTHAM-ZIEMAN

Torrance Lioness Club held its first meeting of the new year on Aug. 9 at the home of Mrs. Paul Diamond, 1832 S. Crescent Heights Blvd., Los Angeles, Mrs. Jack Smith, new president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. John Ritchie, program chairman, gave an outline of the activities planned for the coming year.

During a social hour the hostess served refreshments.

ments.
Attending with the host-ess and president were Mmes. Mott Farrell, Albert Isen, Bryon Chan, Clarence Clark, Ross Morris, Al Redisch, John Ritchie and Dick Vanderland.

DRY CLEANI

