

Back-to-Schoolers Have the "Knack" For Fashion 1966

IT GREW AND GREW

Just like Topsy, this argyle sweater grew . . . and GREW . . . until it became a full length dress for 7 to 14 fashionables! It's of orlon Acrylic and comes in scrumptious combinations of gold and red or teal and white. It has a turnover collar of color, matched horizontal stripes to match hem and wrists and the tie belt may be worn where you wish.

PLAID TRAPEZE

An accomplished flirt at an early age, this lass is the toast of the ice cream crowd in her diagonal plaid trapeze dress with disarming neckline bow. It comes in a variety of bright new plaids, the trapeze features smart white collar and cuffs. Available in size 7 to 14.

Taking advantage of the Youth Movement in fashion are back-to-schoolers whose age advantage is obvious. Dressing for an age they alone can claim, 7 to 14ers, will set the pace this fall in smart knits, racy regimentals, low-waisted charmers, trapezes, and and Western duds more at home on the school yard than on the range.

Argyle sweaters grow to full length dresses, racy regimental stripes take beautifully to A-line dresses child-tested for popularity. Tiny prints for tiny people look especially good in shirt dresses with authentic Western flavor. Tunics and trapezes, made famous in Paris, are a natural for sweet young things.

These new fashions from young Carol Evans' Collection come in durable press fabrics and shape-retaining knits to appeal to mother as well as daughter.

Tyrrell-Welch Nuptials Read

Miss Kathryn Ann Tyrrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent C. Tyrrell, walked down the aisle of the St. Catherine Laboure Church at 11 o'clock on July 2 on the arm of her father, to exchange her marriage vows with Dennis Martin Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Welch, also of Torrance.

The bridal gown was an empire sheath of organza over taffeta. Swiss lace accented the neckline and edged the kabuki sleeves. A chapel length train was caught with a bow at the waist. Her silk illusion veil fell from a headpiece of silk organza. White begonias, stephanotis and gypsophilla formed the bouquet.

Wearing empire gowns of aqua organza and taffeta, bridal attendants were Mrs. Donald King Cushman, matron of honor; Mmes. Forrest E. Hunt III, Thomas E. Armes; and Misses Patricia Westwood, Maureen Tyrrell and Marilyn Tyrrell.

Best man duties were performed by James F. Wills. Ushers were Anthony Aloia, Michael Morris, Michael Tyrrell and Steven Welch.

Rev. William P. Hollinger officiated at the vow exchange and the blessing was given by Rev. Alexander Snyder.

Mrs. Walter Hanf, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Donald Gross, soloist.

The 180 guests greeted the newlyweds at a reception at the Torrance YMCA.

The honeymoon was spent at Mission Bay and the new home is in Lomita.

The bride is a graduate of Bishop Montgomery High school and Marymount College.

Her husband, also a Bishop Montgomery graduate, is a student at Loyola where he is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity and Alpha Sigma Nu, national scholastic fraternity.

Red Cross Event for

United Crusade Drive Leaders

An official "Welcome Aboard" will be issued Wednesday, Aug. 24 to the distaff top brass for the fall United Crusade campaign.

The "Liberty Call for Ladies" event, to be hosted by Red Cross volunteers at the Southern District Red Cross Service Center, First St. and Western Ave., San Pedro, will honor leaders of the door-to-door phase of the annual fund drive.

Guests will include volunteers enrolled to head-up major divisions of the residential drive in the county's Harbor Area which includes Gardena, San Pedro, Wilmington, Harbor City, Torrance, Lomita and the Palos Verdes Peninsula.

Theme for the forthcoming drive, "Clean Sweep," has been carried out in the invitations and will be used similarly in the decorations and program for the tea.

Scheduled to begin at "three bells" (1:30 p.m.), the afternoon event will provide an opportunity for the leaders to get acquainted with their counterparts in other communities.

Tea time socializing will be followed by an informal but important orientation on general plans for the fund appeal in behalf of 244 United Way Agencies and 11 American Red Cross Chapters serving the Los Angeles area.

Remarks by the Harbor Area campaign chairman, Paul Vanderpool and Mrs. Gerald Fagan, chairman over the 3,700 women who will canvass the residential areas, will be followed by remarks of a different nature from comedienne Mel McCoy.

Wednesday's event, according to Mrs. H. E. Searles, Palos Verdes Estates, chairman of Red Cross Volunteers throughout the area, "is only our small way of saying thank-you to the many women who are taking on heavy volunteer responsibilities for this important fund drive."
