WATCH EXPERT . . . Ronnie Phillips, a Torrance watchmaker for eight of his 38 years in the profession has operated his own shop, Ronnie's Watch and Clock Repair, at 1720 Sartori Ave. for the past year and one-half. He specializes in handmade decorator clocks and in guaranteed precision watch and clock repair work.
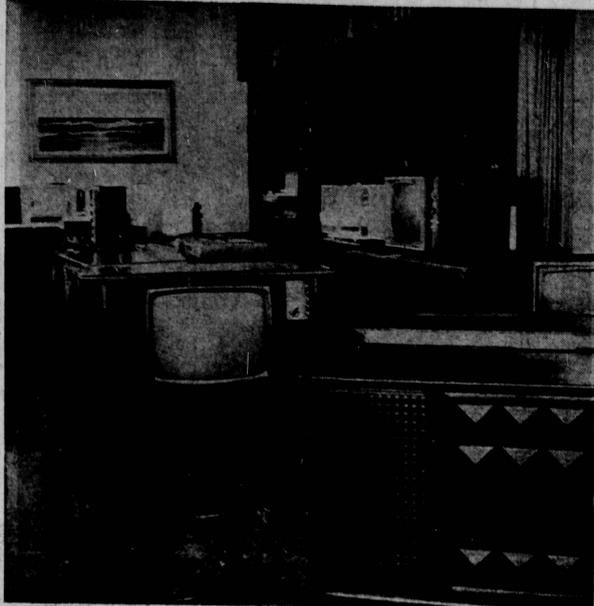

MAGNAVOX CENTER . . . Joe Vilarino's Magnavox Center is just that . . . the center of fine electronics and furniture carrying the quality Magnavox label. Manager Frank Vargas may be found at the Magnavox Center at 1201 S. Pacific Coast Hwy. in Redondo Beach and Charles Bard at the Torrance store at 3852 W. Sepulveda Blvd. The firm handles a complete line of Magnavox items. Vilarino, a native of Inglewood, has been a lifelong resident of the area.

SLEEP SPECIALISTS . . . One of the Southland's finest sources of a good night's sleep, is the Mattress Shops at 1215 W. Carson St. at Normandie Ave. Manager Justin Casey, a 35-year veteran mattress and bedding specialist, says the Mattress Shops carries all important name brands. Because it is family owned, the firm is able to sell under the slogan, "Quality for Less." It will pay you to shop this store for surprises before you buy," Casey said.

Yearbook Rated

Bishop Montgomery High School's yearbook, Excalibur '66, has received a first-class rating from the Catholic Schools Press Association. The yearbook received 850 of a possible 1,000 points to merit the All-Catholic rating.
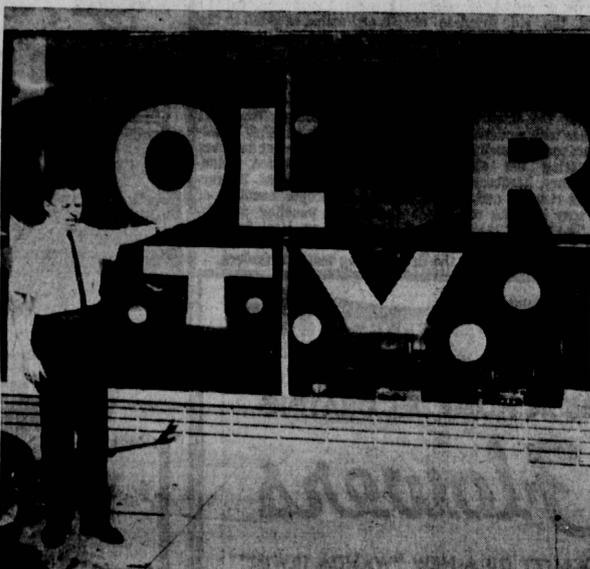

COLOR SPECIALISTS . . . Joe Benore, manager of the Downtown Torrance McMahan Furniture Store at El Prado and Sartori, points to window sign which tells the whole story. Manager Benore is currently in the midst of a Color TV promotion and is offering name brands for as little as $5 down. McMahan's liberal terms on other furniture and appliances makes home furnishing easy, Benore says.

Treasurer Appointed

Thomas C. Rupert, Torrance city treasurer, has been appointed chairman of the 67th Assembly District Committee to Elect Norbert A. Schlei Secretary of State.

Rupert called the office a "forgotten position" in state government. "Since 1906 the job has been given to the Jordans, father and son, who have neglected to keep pace with the growth and complexities of the office."

Schei, a lecturer at the University of Southern California Law School and an attorney in private practice in Los Angeles, "is the caliber of man I want to have in the public service." Rupert said.
