Cooking Courses Planned

A cooking school program designed for modern young homemakers who want to learn how to serve gourmet foods with ease will be held beginning next Tuesday at the Southern California Gas Co. Redondo Beach Office auditorium, 306 S. Catalina Ave.

The program, cosponsored by the gas company and the Torrance Recreation Department, will include two five-week sessions on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to noon. The first runs from Sept. 19 through Oct. 17, while the second is from Oct. 24 through Nov. 21.

SESSIONS of the program will include talks by Sid Gussin of Paul Masson Vineyards. An authority on wines, Gussin will present tips on selection and cooking of wines.

Also participating in the cooking school is Paul Marinovich, reknown chef and owner of Paul's Fisherman's Galley at Redondo Beach's Fisherman's Wharf. He will discuss many of his famous international seafood specialties.

While there is no charge for the school and homemakers may attend as few or as many sessions as they want, attendance will be limited. To register, the Joselyn Center should be called at 328-8362.

TO PERFORM HERE . . . Puppeteer James Gamble will present a benefit performance at the Riviera Methodist Church Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Proceeds from the show will go into the church building fund, according to the Rev. Hans Holborn, pastor. The church is located at 375 Palos Verdes Blvd. Gamble is employed as an airline pilot when he's not manipulating his puppets.

Supervisor Burton W. Chace has reappointed five civic leaders to the District III County Regional Library Advisory Council.

The appointments were approved by the Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Reappointed to one-year terms were:
