Drive for Members Launched

Members of the Gardena Post 3261 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have launched a membership drive to make the rapidly growing post the largest in the Department of California.

VFW is a fraternal, patriotic, and educational organization of men who have served in the Armed Forces outside the United States during a war or national emergency for which a service medal was awarded.

The organizational was founded in 1899 when three groups of veterans of the Spanish American War joined together.

In addition to providing aid for veterans who need assistance, the VFW carries on an educational program. The organization provides aid for children of deceased veterans, and maintains a variety of youth and community activities.

Veterans of the Vietnam War are now eligible for membership and may be enrolled by members of their immediate family.
