

New Job Director Appointed

Named as the fifth work experience coordinator for Torrance high schools is Karl Strandberg, who will help find jobs for students attending the new Kurt Shery High School, according to Delmar Smith, district coordinator. Last year more than 1,000 Torrance youngsters heled down after-school jobs. Working with them were: Ronald Hinders, work experience coordinator at North High; Dennis York at Torrance High; Rene Evers at West High; and John Davis at South High. In addition to securing positions for part-time students, Strandberg will teach two salesmanship and merchandising classes and will initiate a pilot program in job training. A graduate of California State College at Long Beach, Strandberg holds a master's degree in business administration and has 14 years' employment experience in retailing and manufacturing firms. A resident of Long Beach, he is 32 years old and married. His wife teaches at the Long Beach Unified School District. Telephones look pretty much alike, but the ordinary desk model, which was introduced in 1954, has been modified 1,800 times to improve its service, reports Pacific Telephone.
