

USO Drive In Riviera Tomorrow

Harbor Area USO will solicit funds from Hollywood Riviera residents for the United Crusade and afterward will host a dinner dance at the San Pedro YWCA, 437 W. 9th St. tomorrow.

The USO Junior Volunteers, who are high school graduates from 17 to 25 years old, will solicit funds to help keep United Crusade member organizations in operation for another year. The girls will wear United Crusade volunteer ribbons when they solicit in the early evening on Oct. 19.

Young servicemen stationed in the area will join the volunteers for dinner and dancing at the YWCA around 8 p.m.

USO is one of the 244 United Way agencies that, along with 12 American Red Cross chapters in Los Angeles County benefit from the annual United Crusade.

Every Thursday evening a dance is given at the YWCA in San Pedro by the USO Junior Volunteers for military personnel. The USO, like other United Crusade member organizations, brings entertainment and a smile into the lives of servicemen wherever they are stationed the world over.

About ten girls, who serve as USO Junior Volunteers in the Harbor Area, are residents of Torrance.

Return From Virgin Islands

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Moudy have returned to their home at 3201 W. 179th St. after spending almost two years in St. Croix, Virgin Islands. Mr. Moudy was in the Virgin Islands on an assignment from the Harvey Aluminum Co.

Returning to the United States, the couple vacationed in Florida, Washington, D.C. and Colorado en route to their Torrance home.

THIS MODERN GENERATION

Shock is registered by representatives of the 1800s when they take a look at a "roaring 20s" flapper. These gowns, worn by members of the Torrance Ladies of the Elks, will be shown to husbands and guests at a Goodwill Industries "fashions of the past" show at the Elks lodge Tuesday evening. Modeling are, from left, Mmes. Charles Marquand, in an early 1800 gown; Mrs. Virgil Paine, in a 1920 flapper costume; Don Lemen, in a 1893 fashion with the leg o'mutton sleeves; and Robert C. Ayala, in a 1900 white eyelet party dress.

Elk Ladies Present

Top Fashions of Long Ago

"Fashions of Yesteryear" will provide a delightful evening for members of the Torrance Ladies of the Elks next Tuesday evening, Oct. 24, at the Elks Lodge, 1820 Abalone Ave.

Presenting the parade of fashions, which date from the period before the civil war up to the early 1930s, will be Janet S. Reynolds of the Wrightman Memorial Goodwill Industries.

Husbands and guests have been invited to see the fashion extravaganza which begins at 8 p.m.

You'll Know Them By Their Yellow Hats

Bright canary yellow cardboard hat creations bedecked with orange daisies were worn by the 28-member delegation of Torrance Junior Woman's Club members who attended the California Federation of Women's Club Area "C" Fall Conference, in Long Beach, this past weekend. Under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Vroman, president, the officers, chairmen, and members participated in the morning workshops and luncheon served at the Edgewater Inn, Long Beach.

These bright hat creations will be seen again and again throughout the year as Juniors returned to Torrance, eager to begin their year's philanthropic projects. Operation Headstart, Villa Contessa Convalescent Home, Harbor Hospital, health and safety clinics, and many other community projects will be undertaken during the coming year.

On Monday, a delegation of Torrance Juniors attended the District Conference held at the Pacific Palisades Club, and hosted by the Pacific Palisades Juniors.

Couples Make Alaskan Tour

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Schwab returned to their home at 1508 Acacia last Thursday after a ten-day Alaskan tour. The Schwabs and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Butcher of San Pedro, flew to Vancouver where they boarded the Glacier Queen for the inland passage trip. They docked at Juneau, Ketchikan and Prince Rupert and visited Tracy Arms where they saw the Sawyer Glacier.

Junior Club Assists With Health Tasks

Torrance Juniors are contributing time and effort to the health and welfare of the Torrance community under the chairmanship of Mrs. Larry Smith, Torrance Junior Woman's Club Health Chairman.

Members will staff the Harbor Hospital Children's Clinic playyard each Tuesday morning from 9-11:30 a.m. Children who have to wait a long while to see the doctor can enjoy the games, dolls, tricycles, and barnyard animals, combed in a farm-like landscape under the watchful eyes of Juniors.

The Measles Clinic will again find Juniors assisting in the registration of the children throughout the schools and Health Center in Torrance during the month of October.

On November 19, Torrance Juniors will assist with the Diabetic Clinic at the Torrance Health Center. The Sunday clinic is so worthwhile and citizens are urged to watch for further notice of this project.

Mrs. Smith will also be in charge of scheduling Juniors to help with the Red Cross Bloodmobile when it visits the Torrance area throughout the year.

At Lake Cachuma

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moffitt returned Tuesday evening from a four day stay at their mobile home at Lake Cachuma.
