Costa Poses Threat

Three schools are still in contention for the Bay League football championship, including North High, South High, and Mira Costa. Two of them — North and Mira Costa — battle for first place next Friday at North Stadium.

Mira Costa has become a threat to overtake North in the pennant race. The Mustangs walloped Redondo, 49-7, for their third straight league win Friday at El Camino.

North has beaten Santa Monica and Inglewood on two successive Fridays.

The Saxons knocked Inglewood (1-3) out of the race by a 21-0 score this weekend. The Sentinels were flat and never a threat after giving up a first quarter touchdown on a 44 yard runback of an interception by Rick Creighton.

The victorious Saxons put on their best defensive game of the year, thwarting Inglewood's versatile running and passing attack.

third and fourth quarters. Following the second half kickoff the Saxons went 77 yards with Gary McKeon scoring from the 4 yard line.

To start the fourth period they marched another 59 yards. Creighton ripped 15, 18 and 3 yards on consecutive runs for his second TD. John Pattison booted each of three points after touchdown.

Guard Rich Brewer and Tackle Rick Francis put a lot of pressure on Inglewood quarterbacks to bottle up their offense.

North Quarterback Dan Hansen again took command of the offense by using Creighton and Gary McKeon on power plays, helping himself to the outside on the roll-out series.

Are Rams Ready for The 49ers?

The Rams aren't practicing this week for the team that Detroit massacred last Sunday, 45-3. They're training — and hard — for the club that handed them their only defeat of the season four weeks ago, 27-24. They aren't sure what happened to the San Francisco 49ers last week, but they have a vivid recollection of what took place in the Coliseum on Oct. 8.

Merlin Olsen, the big, strong and articulate tackle who is a key member of pro football's most feared defensive lines, put it this way: "All I know is, the 49ers have one of the biggest and most experienced offensive lines we've ever faced. Against us, they played probably the best game they've played all season, but it was the kind of football we know they're capable of on any given Sunday."

"We put the heaviest kind of pressure on their quarterback, John Brodie, but we just couldn't get him. If we got through the line, there were big backs waiting to pick us up. And behind them Brodie was throwing quick, accurate passes."

"Even when we red-gogged — and that's always a dangerous gamble — he got the throw away, and that's what finally beat us."

Basketball Is Coming

By HENRY BURKE
 Press-Herald Sports Editor

Not only is North High's football team in the thick of the Bay League championship picture, but the school expects a most exciting year of basketball.

To get ready for it, Coach Keith Skip Enger bypassed coaching the Class C football team. He has 17 players working out at the present time. At the end of the football season Quarterback Dan Hansen will join the cagers.

Once again Enger has arranged the toughest possible schedule for his varsity. The slate will include two scrimmages, a non-league game against Centennial, four major tournaments, and a 12-game Bay League round robin.

To accent the tough schedule bit, Enger says his teams never lose to "dogs." They are meaningless and not purposely scheduled.

Skip Enger has a reputation for winning and playing the part of the nice guy. It is rare in sports. His attitude about making basketball a total part of the student body speaks for itself.

SKIP ENGER

A boy who goes out for basketball at North High is given every possible opportunity to participate. Because so many players have been involved in basketball since they enrolled at the school, Enger will carry an 18-man varsity roster this year. A regular squad is 12.

"These kids live, sleep and die basketball, so it is only fitting that they share in the fruits of an exciting season," Enger said.

Not only will the roster be big in size, but so will some of the players.

Bill Taylor (6-10), Jim Nielson (6-8), Bob Jones (6-3), Dan Anderson (6-1) and Dan Hansen (6-3) will probably make up the first unit.

Enger has five second stringers who provide great reinforcement. All top the 6-foot range and include Kirk West, Chuck Cronin, Stan Wisniewski, and juniors Jim Thomas and Art Frasier.

The remainder of the squad is Daryl Keldrock, Terry Smith, Lee Eystone, Perry Taka, John Irgins, Chuck Deickow, Tom Smith, and Bob Ellings.

Inasmuch as North High has instituted its own basketball tournament Dec. 26, 27 and 28, two of the eight teams will come from North High. Other entries are Compton, Monrovia, Long Beach Wilson, Fermin Lasuen, Culver City and Palos Verdes.

Compton, Monrovia and North are among the top CIF contenders for 1967-68.

The Compton-North match may take top billing at the Beverly Hills and North tournaments and the CIF playoffs.

In conjunction with the North tournament, Enger has organized a basketball clinic the morning of Dec. 28 from 9 a.m. to noon. The principal speaker will be John Kundla of the University of Minnesota. He was coach of the Lakers prior to their move to Los Angeles.

A lecture on basketball scouting will be given by Newell Breyfogle of the University of Santa Barbara. Ladell Anderson of Utah State is also on the bill.

The North tournament is back-to-back with the 8-team Bishop Montgomery Tournament which comes just ahead of Christmas.

Tournaments will occupy the basketball scene most of December and early January.

North will not defend its Dominguez Tournament championship since it is in conflict with the Pacific Shores Tournament early in December. This also allows North to get on the Compton bandwagon in January.

When the Bay League campaign rolls around, North will get its stiffest competition from Redondo. Coach Rex Hughes has been building for this year for three years. The girls' gym has been turned over to the Seahawks in place of the abandoned boys' gym.

Hughes has exercised one point-of-view which reflects on the current dismal football status at Redondo High. He discourages basketball talent from playing football almost to the point of an ultimatum.

Three youngsters who skipped football for basketball may have been the difference between first and last place in football. Alan Oddi and Willie Glen, a pair of seniors, and Rick Shaw, a junior, figured to be tremendous football prospects prior to getting their hands on a basketball.

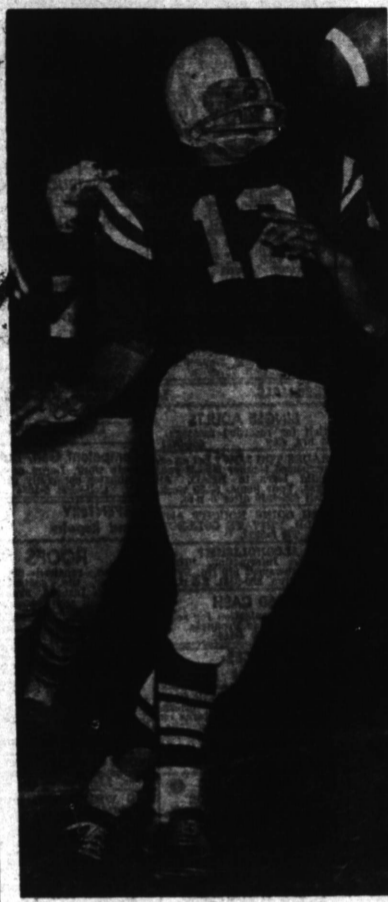

Oddi could have been an excellent quarterback. Glen has everything it takes to be a fine pass receiver. Shaw is simply an all-around athlete.

It so happens that Redondo's biggest weaknesses in football this fall could have been strengthened by an Oddi, Glen and Shaw.

Basketball and baseball will depend on Jeff Wang of South High a great deal. But it is a good thing he did not pass up football.

The same goes for North High's Dan Hansen who should make the All-Bay League backfield.

Because of the dual role of Hansen in football and basketball, the Saxons will be better off in the Bay League this season.

Torrance Ties Culver On Watkins' Passing

Dennis Watkins threw three touchdowns passes and passed for three extra points as Torrance High tied Culver City, 21-21, in a Sky League football game at Torrance Stadium Friday night.

The Tartars, who broke a string of five losses, will have a home game against unbeaten Morningside next Friday.

The Monarchs were handed a surprising 14-14 tie by Rolling Hills Friday.

Morningside follows Torrance with a final league game against Leuzinger. Rolling Hills ends up with Leuzinger and Culver City. Barring an upset, the Sky League will culminate in a first-place tie.

Torrance and Culver City were also frustrated with a see-saw tie.

The Centaurs could not contain Torrance's passing and Torrance could not master Rich Zaino, who turned in a 75-yard kickoff return in the second quarter to tie the game at 14-14 and later at 21-21 on a 3-yard run. Culver City only led at 7-0 in the first quarter on a 20-yard pass.

In the second period, Watkins pitched a 55-yard pass to Mike McGuire. A few moments later Watkins connected to Mike Van Kralingen, who outdistanced the defense on a 25-yard pass and Torrance led, 14-7. It was immediately following that Zaino raced back with the kickoff for a TD.

Torrance broke the 14-14 tie in the third period as Watkins found McGuire in the open again and hit him with a 37-yard play to put the Tartars in front, 21-14.

Culver City rallied in the same quarter with Zaino punching over from the 3.

Both teams jockeyed back and forth in the fourth quarter, only to have interceptions and penalties stall them.

Torrance had a clipping penalty nullify a pass to Van Kralingen at the Culver City 20 with two minutes to go.

Torrance TDs — McGuire (55 and 37 yd. passes from Watkins), Van Kralingen (25 yd. pass from Watkins); PATs — Perry (3 passes from Watkins) — Killings (pass from Watkins).

Culver City TDs — Zaino (75 yd. kickoff return and 3 yd. run); Holt (20 yd. pass from Goodyear); PATs — Goodyear 3 (kicks).

Boyd Runs TD Total to 23

Big Dave Boyd scored three first-half touchdowns and passed for another as West coasted to a 33-6 Pioneer League win over Lennox Friday night.

The Warriors extended their season record to seven victories and no losses.

Lawndale, the defending champion, with whom West tangles a week from next Friday, also won its seventh straight this season and 16th overall by blanking Palos Verdes, 20-0.

Palos Verdes invades West next Friday night, while Lawndale takes on El Segundo. West got past Lennox without the use of Quarterback Coy Hall, whose hand was re-injured. Hall did not suit up, but he is expected to be back for P.V.

Filling Hall's shoes was Len Herachler, who played his best game Friday. He completed four of six passes for 156 yards.

Boyd's three touchdowns ran his season total to 23 for seven games. He also had 82 yards in 12 carries to hurdle the thousand plateau at 1,088.

Coach Fred Peterson gave the bench a chance to take over in the second half after Dan Whelan ran 73 yards for the Warriors' fifth touchdown.

The game was pretty well wrapped up in the first half on a pair of TDs in each period.

West got on the scoreboard six minutes into the game, going 56 yards. Boyd carried four times for 36 yards and a five-yard TD run.

Seven plays later, he took a pitchout and hurled a pass to Gary Kendrick good for 63 yards and a touchdown. After Gary Marconi picked off an interception for West on his own 15-yard line, Herschler threw a pass to Kendrick for 69 yards. Kendrick was hauled down on the one-foot line. After a penalty set West back five yards, Boyd scored from the two.

Paul Johnson kicked his third extra point.

Lennox took advantage of two face mask penalties to march 77 yards. Hard running Ron Smith bucked over from the one to make it 21-6.

West struck back on a 38-yard swing pass to Boyd. He tried to dive over from the two, but fumbled into the end zone and Sam Cecil recovered for the Lancaers.

With time running out, however, the Warriors went 36 yards to score. Boyd plowed in from the one.

West rolled up 479 yards on the ground and through the air.

 Lennox TD — Smith (1 yd. run).

Crespi Escapes Upset by Knights

After three scoreless quarters, Crespi outpointed Bishop Montgomery, 12-7, in the fourth period to stay atop the Camino Real League football race with St. Bernard's. Each has a 3-0 record.

Montgomery, having lost to St. Bernard's and Crespi, is out of the race.

The Knights went down fighting. They outplayed

Crespi until center linebacker Pat Kealey re-injured a knee and was sidelined in the fourth period.

After the incident, Crespi drove 50 yards to score. Bob Barber tallied from the one-yard line.

Crespi got the kickoff back at the 10-yard line on a fumble and drove for a quick second TD. Bob Terrazas took the ball over for the second TD.

Montgomery got on the scoreboard in the final minutes on a 20-yard pass from Greg Collins to Steve Patterson.

Montgomery outgained Crespi by a 231-187 margin.

Patterson caught five passes for 110 yards.

Kealey shared defensive laurels with Jim Roach. Coach George Swade said both were outstanding.

St. Bernard's scored a 37-0 triumph over Murphy, while St. Monica's and Fermin Lasuen fought to a 6-6 tie.

Indy Cars Will Race On Nov. 26

The largest, richest and most important race for championship cars since the Indianapolis 500 last May is coming up at Riverside International Raceway Nov. 26 when the celebrated Indy cars mark their return to the Los Angeles area after an absence of more than 30 years.

Called the Rex Mays 300, the 116-lap grind over Riverside's challenging 2.6-mile road course will ring down the curtain on the 1967 USAC Championship Trail and is expected to decide the national driving championship, auto racing oldest and most coveted honor.

Entries for the rich Classic began pouring in this week headed by one of the three leading contenders for this year's title, two-time USAC champion Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa.

The Italian-born speedster will drive the Dean Van Lines Special.

Schindler, Gilles Save El Camino

Charlie Schindler, the place kicking specialist who never had much opportunity to display his talents at South High because touchdowns were so scarce, is making up for it at El Camino College.

The "one point after touchdown" is still a significant part of college football and Schindler has made it count for three key victories this season. His third place kick in the fourth quarter against East Los Angeles Friday night brought El Camino a precious 21-20 Metro Conference victory at East L.A. Stadium.

Schindler ran his kicking record to 28 for 29 for the year and enabled El Camino to stretch its unbeaten record to seven for the season and five in the conference.

The Huskies led 20-14 after two touchdowns in the fourth quarter and appeared headed for a fourth TD with 9:20 to go. El Camino led the El Camino 16 yard line where Greg Runnals intercepted a pass.

The Warriors fought back on an 84 yard drive with Ed Gilles tearing through the Huskies and finally scoring from the 1 yard line.

Gilles subbed for Tom Reynolds who injured a shoulder. El Camino led 14-0 after one quarter and 14-7 at half-time. There was no scoring in the third quarter, but East L.A. struck with back-to-back 18 and 21 yard TDs in the fourth period.

Wang Runs for 3 Touchdowns As South Disposes of Serra
