Re-Leaguing Never Ends

By HENRY BURKE Press-Herald Sports Editor

No matter how the pieces are put together, the job of "leaguing" high schools for athletic competition neve satisfies everyone.

It may take a century, for example, to find a con patible solution to the awkward set up for the high schools in Torrance. Having the city's four public schools in the same group seems unlikely until two or three schools outside the district agree to idea of being outnumbered or until the district has more schools of its own. A league requires a minimum of six members.

The CIF office has probably seen the last of the 5-school conferences, such as the Long Beach Moore

League a few years ago. Meanwhile, no relief appears near for the consoli dation of the four Torrance schools. Imagine having to be divided among three leagues when it would be so easy to travel across town for athletic competition.

An attempt to re-district the 28 most prom parochial schools was declared this week. Two "powe house" and two lesser conferences are proposed.

Officials of the Camino Real apparently wanted to dodge any part of a realignment by voting status quo. Instead, the proposal that went to the CIF office for final approval saw the Camino Real League expanded to include Serra and Mt. Carmel for 1968.

Father John Hughes, principal of St. Bernard's (2 Camino Real League member) is author of the new releaguing proposal. He said a four-year study went into the new plan predicated on geographical and enrollment data.

Whether or not the addition of Mt. Carmel and Serra to the CRL will arouse feelings among members of the league remains to be seen, but geographically it makes sense to substitute Serra and Carmel for Crespi never had any business in the league. Crespi should stay closer to the San Fernando Valley where at least it has something in common with Notre Dame High.

Contraction and a second secon

By HENRY BURKE Press-Herald Sports Edito Beverly Hills High plays one kind of basketball. Get the ball and shoot as often as possible. If the shots miss, the ball and shoot as used as possible. If the shots miss, the odds are against the small Normans getting the re-bounds, so their kind of game not good enough for tabl was not good enough Torrance Friday night.

Although Beverly was suc-cessful on 29 of 63 attempts against the Tartars, the Nor-mans could not compete with Bart Johnson and Dick Kreul in retrieving the ball.

Torrance went on to dominate its own end of the court and waltzed to a 92-76 Sky League victory in the swim gym.

The Tartars connected on 35 of 68 field goal shots. The team was as high as 60 per cent until the reserves started taking over in the fourth quarter.

Johnson's 10 goals and 6 free throws gave him 26 points. Guard Robin Fisher's totals were 9 FG and 7 FT. Kruel had 8 free throws among his 20 points and Steve Jasper was unstoppable from the corner for eight field goals.

Coach Will Boerger of Tor-rance made good use of his bench, particularly by alter-nating Grant Galyardt with Bob Fernley and allowing Fisher a momentary breather. Alex Gamble, the outstandhad 23 points. After he picked up his fourth personal in the third quarter the Normans' defense was in jeop-ardy and they virtually surrendered. Gamble stayed around until the end, but teammate Irv Zakheim fouled out with 4:08 to go. Torrance restrained itself noticeably from fouling until late in the game. The final total was 13 of which the Normans made good on 14 of 16.

Beverly's 17 personals con-tributed to 22 of 26 for Tor-rance. Two others were nul-lified for line violations.
