Fifth Floor of Courts Building Now Complete

Work on the fifth floor of the Southwest District Superior Courts Building is finished and the $4.4 million Torrance Civic Center project is now completed, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn has announced.

The Board of Retirement financed construction of the building.

Eight superior and three municipal courts have been in session since early last summer when the first four floors were completed.

In addition to 15 courts, the building also houses offices for the District Attorney, Public Defender, Sheriff's Department Civil Division, and the County Clerk.

A law library is located on the first floor of the courts. Approximately 148,350 square feet of floor area is included in the building.
