Speed Limit Raised for Cars Pulling Trailers

Fishermen pulling trailers will be able to get to their favorite trout spot faster this year because the speed limit for cars pulling trailers has been raised from 50 to 55 mph, Captain P. J. Ford of the California Highway Patrol said today.

"This is only one of the laws relating to towing trailers that must be remembered and obeyed," Captain Ford said. "The lights on the trailer should be carefully checked to be sure they are in proper working order, and a safety chain augmenting the hitch connecting the trailer and the car is necessary."

"If the trailer is so big that it prevents the driver from seeing with his inside mirror, the car must be equipped with two rearview mirrors, one on each side of the car."

Captain Ford said a pamphlet entitled "Trailer in California" which discusses other provisions of the vehicle code that apply to towing trailers is available upon request at his office.

"Just drop into the office and pick one up, or give us a phone call and we'll mail it to you."

"You can get to that trout stream faster this year but drive carefully and make sure you get there," he added.
