Disabled Receive Benefits

Many disabled widows and widowers can now receive Social Security monthly benefits under a new amendment to the Social Security Law, according to Social Security District Manager Davis.

Previously, a widow could not get Social Security benefits until she reached age 60 unless she was caring for a child entitled to benefits based on her husband's earnings.

Now, a widow who is unable to work because of severe disability, and whose husband worked long enough under social security, may get monthly benefits as early as age 50 (A surviving divorced wife, married to her husband 20 years or more before the divorce, may also qualify for this benefit under some circumstances).

A disabled widower age 50 or older must have been receiving at least one-half of his support from his wife at the time she died.

The exact amount that each disabled widower receives will depend upon the amount of the deceased worker's average earnings and the age of the disabled applicant. Davis also said that the staff of the Torrance Social Security office will assist in the filing of applications and answer any questions about the new changes in the law.

The local office is located at 1408 Crenshaw Blvd. As a convenience to the public, the office remains open until 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

U. S. milk production in March is estimated at 10,269 million pounds, the smallest monthly production for March since 1953.
