Filipino Boy Adopted By Madrona Students

When sixth-grade students at Madison Elementary School decided to "adopt" a needy youngster in the Philippines, only one problem got in the way—how to raise the necessary money.

Being "foster parents," they learned, costs exactly $15 a month—and parents are expected to sign up for a year.

With $15 in the class kitty and a large smattering of optimism, they went ahead with their plan. In due course of time, the 11- and 12-year-olds in Miss Carol Anderson's class became the parents of an 11-year-old boy from the village of Cavite, Regalado L. Bayas.

REGALADO, whose father died of tuberculosis, lives in a Nipa house on stilts near the rice paddies where his mother works.

rated the units as they passed in review at a civic center reviewing stand.

The 1st Battalion of the 14th Marines, a reserve unit stationed at the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve Training Center in Los Angeles, marched off with the Secretary of Defense trophy for the best reserve forces unit entry and with a citizens trophy for the outstanding entry in the open class motorized units.

Winning two trophies was the Oxnard Air Force Base Sentry Dog Training Demonstration unit which won the perpetual trophy for the best exhibit area entry and won another trophy as the best combat support exhibit.

TAKING two trophies back to UCLA was its Senior ROTC unit which won the Best ROTC Unit award and the outstanding entry among open class marching units.

Putting happy smiles on the faces of scores of Torrance area families was the double win brought home by the Torrance Area Youth Band—as the best civilian music entry and as the best local entry.

Sharing an award was Company A, 12th Special Forces Group, who must divide the best exhibit area with the Oxnard Air Force Base Sentry Dog Training Demonstration. It was reported that each unit would have possession of the perpetual trophy for a six-month period.

OTHER WINNERS included the 5th Marine Division band, best military music unit; California Army National Guard Mounted Honor Guard, best National Guard entry; Fire Control Technician School Drill Team, Vallejo, best military drill team; and the U.S.S. Baltimore Float (with the firing deck guns), best regular forces unit entry.
