

Mrs. Hanley Receives Arc of Epsilon Honor

Mrs. Peter Hanly of San Pedro was honored at the Oct. 8 meeting of the South Bay Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae Club when she was presented the Arc of Epsilon Pi, one of the sororities highest International awards. This award is given to members throughout the United States and Canada who have a record of outstanding service to Alpha Gamma Delta as an undergraduate and alumna.

Mrs. Hanly affiliated with the Delta Alpha Chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta as an undergraduate at the University of Southern California and served as Chapter president during her senior year. Since her graduation, she was Scholarship Advisor for three years and is presently on the Delta Alpha House Committee whose main project is to raise funds for a new Chapter house on the University of Southern California campus.

As a member of the South Bay Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae Club she has held five major offices, including that of president, and has been chairman of numerous committees.

Presenting the award was Mmes. Gene Chapman of Long Beach, Province secretary-treasurer, and Richard Kincaid of Palos Verdes Estates, past recipient of the Arc. The surprise reception was given by Mmes. James Yurk of San Pedro, and John Duston Jr., of Palos Verdes Estates.

Mexican Fiesta For Las Vecinas Provisionals

This evening, new provisionals of the Las Vecinas Woman's Club and their husbands will be taken to a Mexican Fiesta at the home of Mrs. Henry Schmaid, 976 Via Rincon, Palos Verdes Estates.

Starting with cocktails, new members will be feted in an atmosphere of costumes, flowers, music, games and a Mexican buffet. At midnight, the traditional pinata will be broken.

Pre-Schooler Parents

Invited to Attend Nursery's Open House

An Open House for parents of pre-schoolers has been scheduled at the Torrance Cooperative Nursery School, 4558 W. 182nd St., tomorrow evening at 7:30.

Guest speaker will be Donald E. Bowlus, psychologist and a specialist in child development. His topic will be "How To Be A Grownup: guidelines for adult behavior that are most likely to help children develop."

The speaker is a psychologist for Orange County, Compton High and Long Beach Unified school districts. He also teaches the UCLA Extension course required for all nursery school teachers.

The Cooperative Nursery School is sponsored by the Torrance Adult Education office and has a two-fold program: a four morning a week nursery school and evening parent education classes. Membership is open to all parents of 3 to 5 year olds.

Mrs. Pamela Bennett, director, who will be on hand to greet parents at the Open House, has said "a rare opportunity exists at the present time for prospective new members to enroll immediately. Although the school usually has a waiting list, and one exists for second semester, several openings are now available."

For further information regarding the Open House or the school, interested parents may call Mrs. Joseph Rizzo, membership chairman.

Home made cookies... candles to read by... paperback books... even a package of jelly beans... these are the small things that bring comfort and a reminder of home to our men serving on active duty in the remote outposts of Viet Nam. Mrs. Clifford Tuttle and a group of friends began to gather, wrap and send gifts for these men last October. Now Mrs. Tuttle, her fellow-members of the Via Arriba Neighborhood Group, and a number of organizations and individuals are busier than ever, preparing for this year's Christmas distribution. "For so long as our country is involved in Viet Nam," says Mrs. Tuttle, "we want to show our servicemen that we really care about them here at home, and that we are standing behind them in every way that we can."
