The search for higher education has reached a fever pitch of late, requiring additional hundreds of new classrooms. The masses reaching for knowledge seem to be divided between young and old, attending day and evening classes.

All this leads me to believe that getting to school and parking could pose a real big problem. RTD serves many of these schools directly, or goes within walking distance of others. As an example, Citrus College and Azusa Pacific College are served by the 68 line; Cal State by the 32, 53, 60 and 63 lines; UCLA by the 83 and 176; USC by the 44, 49, 95; just to mention a few. Unless you're loaded down with cash, you might be smart to check into this.

The Rapid Transit Design Car will be located in Century City, near Wilshire and Santa Monica Boulevards, Wednesday, October 2nd, through Sunday, October 28th. Plan to visit this exciting full scale prototype of the Rapid Transit Car proposed for Los Angeles.

Almost 200 Thrifty Drug Stores have been supplied with RTD timetables. This means that if there is a Thrifty Drug Store in your area, they will have a rack with your local timetables. The good folks down at Thrifty do this as a public service, so take Old Artie's advice and when you stop in to pick up a timetable, buy something.

Don't forget the Auto Show at the Pan Pacific starting October 25th through November 3rd. RTD lines 21, 44 and 89 will take you direct, or you can transfer from almost anywhere in Los Angeles.

Q. HELP! My company is moving from Hawthorne, where I live, to downtown Los Angeles, where I don't live. Can I get bus transportation to the Bunker Hill area? Miss T.T.

A. I read your smoke signals. Grab a 5 line bus on Hawthorne Boulevard and ride to 5th and change to the 3 line west.

Q. My wife and I saw the Rapid Transit Car at the Fair and I am looking forward to seeing it built. My question is, why can't we have improved bus service NOW? I live near Crenshaw and Rosecrans and buses run every hour, Mr. M.S.

A. Cheer up, friend. RTD will be improving the 101 line to 30 minute service. I'll send you a timetable when they are available.

Q. I think the RTD for the local service in El Segundo, but I'm afraid we'll lose it if people don't start to ride it. Miss L.S.

A. Let's hope people wake up and smell the bacon. It would be a shame to take the line off.

Q. Why do most of the lines in the South Bay area quit running at night? I live in the Torrance-Redondo area and we're stranded after 6 p.m. Mrs. L.Z.

A. From my personal observations of that area, they pull in the cat and turn out the lights around 7 p.m. The bus company needs customers to run a bus line and after they're scarce as cats at a dog show.
