Service Station Held Up

Two men in their early 20s held up a North Torrance service station early this morning and escaped with $55.

The station attendant told Torrance police he was in the office of the station, 16300 Crenshaw Blvd., about 2:30 a.m. when the two suspects entered. One of the men pulled a knife on the attendant and told him to "be calm and play it cool."

"Don't try anything," the attendant warned, "or I'll kill you."

The two men forced the attendant to hand over the $55 from the station till then fled on foot in the fog.
