By Terrence O'Flaherty
"If the new album of Beattle John Lennon isn't sold in this country would it be possible for you to send me a press copy of the cover — the one with the nude photograph of John Lennon and his girl friend?"

I don't have one. Gad! I wasn't even interested in him with his clothes ON. It will be sold however (in a plain wrapper) by the distributing company owned appropriately enough by Bill 'I Spy' Cosby.

"Are the horses ridden by the actors in television westerns quieted down by tranquilizers to keep the stars from being tossed into the underbrush?"

No. Most regular western stars eventually become good horsemen and all of them ride horses that can handle. Nervous guest stars are provided with horses previously driven only by little old ladies from Anaheim, Azusa, and Cucamonga.

"What ever became of Elissa Landi? I remember her as an aristocratic looking actress not duplicated on the screen today."

She died in 1948 at the age of 44. One of her last films was Corregidor. She came

Marijuana Charges Jail Trio

Three youths were arrested on suspicion of marijuana late Monday evening by Torrance police responding to a report of a possible robbery.

Taken into custody at 1646 Cabrillo Ave., were James Stewart Carpenter, 18, of Inglewood; Donald Wayne McKinsey, 20, of 22309 S. Marine Ave., Carson; and James Craig Campau, 19, of 4172 W. 166th St., Lawndale.

Police were sent to the address when a report of a possible robbery was noted. Officers arriving on the scene followed a car pointed out by an informant. Police arrested the trio after their car stopped in front of the Cabrillo Avenue address.

by her looks naturally. She had an aristocratic Italian heritage.

"The cast of the new TV version of 'Heidi' was advertised as Maximilian Schell, Jean Simmons, Walter Slezak and Michael Redgrave. Good heavens! Which one plays Heidi?"

None of them. Not even the Westmores, Max Factor and a half dozen plastic surgeons combined could make any one of them into the famous 11-year-old Swiss bell-ringer — although Slezak is very pretty. The role was taken by Jennifer Edwards, the 11-year-old daughter of Hollywood filmmaker Blake Edwards. If the divorce and marriage rumors are true young Miss Edwards' step-mother will be another actress who also played in an Alpine role and turned it into the greatest money-making movie in history — Julie Andrews in "Sound of Music." Blake and Miss Andrews are a constant filmland couple.

"Why didn't the new Julie Andrews movie 'Star' give a more authentic portrait of Gertrude Lawrence the actress on whose career it was based?"

Movie-goers are paying to see Julie Andrews. Only a small fraction of them ever saw or knew Gertrude Lawrence, a British revue star who was in only six films including "Rembrandt" and "The Glass Menagerie." Even so, Miss Andrews' characterization went deeper than that of most movie musicals.

"In what war did Elvis Presley's manager, Col. Parker get his commission?"

It's an honorary Dixie title for very little effort and no war at all.

"How did ABC ever get William Buckley and Gore Vidal back together for the Presidential Election after their name-calling, hair-pulling finale during the conventions?"

They didn't. ABC's "Odd Couple" was split into two separate studios with separate entrances.

State Tax Commission Will Meet

SACRAMENTO — The State Advisory Commission on Tax Reform will hold its fifth meeting in Sacramento Friday, Houston I. Flournoy, State Controller and chairman of the commission, announced today.

The commission has studies under way pointing to a general reform in the California tax structure.

The meeting next Friday, Flournoy said, will start at 9:30 a.m. in Room 2170 of the state capitol building.

Two major areas of tax reform will be considered, the first, the state's bank tax and second, the limits and burdens of taxes in California.

THE CONTROLLER said persons wishing to testify before the commission should write to its offices, P.O. Box 1019, Sacramento. As many requests as possible will be scheduled for testimony.

Fly-Up for Brownies Conducted

Members of Brownie Troop 2098 have been elevated to the rank of Junior Girl Scouts in Fly-up Ceremonies conducted at Lincoln Elementary School.

Mr. Robert Vigne and Mrs. Shingo Sakamoto are the new leaders of the troop. They are introduced during the Fly-up Ceremonies.

During the next few weeks, girls will collect and make Christmas gifts for children in San Vincente, Mexico.

During October, the troop spend a weekend at Camp Aventura and held their annual Halloween party. Winners of prizes for the best costumes were Leslie Sweeten, Paula Williams, and Dorothy Sasaki.

Bay Unit Sets Kick-Off Event

A kick-off dinner for the Bay Unit of the California Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation will be held Saturday in Manhattan Beach.

Reservations for the dinner-dance, to be held at 612 S. Sepulveda Blvd., may be made by calling Cozette Walker in the girls' physical education department at Rollin 1/4 Hills High School.

Checks Mailed

Christmas Club checks have been mailed to some 15,800 members of the First Western Bank and Trust Co., Stafford Grady, board chairman and president, has announced.
