El Camino Opposes Diablo Valley

El Camino College, winner of the Metropolitan Conference, clashes with Diablo Valley College, champ of the Golden Gate Conference, Saturday at Murdock Stadium in the first game of the junior college playoffs.

While the Warriors emerged with a perfect 9-0 regulation season record, Diablo Valley suifered only one loss in its nine-game session.

The Vikings only defeat was 26-7 to Laney, winner of the Golden Gate Conference title, but out on probation.

Diablo Valley is led by fullback Larry Merlini. The sophomore has scored 90 points while rolling up 766 yards on 157 carries. Merlini's 90 points represent 15 touchdowns and a two-pcint conversion fensive forces as its strongest runner, averaging close to five yards per carry.

The Vikings are quarterbacked by freshman Randy Nobles, who completed 73 of 148 passes for 1083 yards and 8 touchdowns. Nobles' favorite receivers are freshman Mark Ernst and sophomore Jack LaDuke.

Ernst hauled in 36 passes for 548 yards and scored five TDs, while LaDuke has latched onto 26 passes for 437 yards and two TDs.

In Metro action El Camino posted an outstanding team record as well as several individual performances. As a team the Warriors outscored their opponents, 297-114, and won the Metro championship for the first time since 1954.

On the individual level, halfback Dave Boyd led the conference in rushing with 992 yards which were picked up on 217 carries. He scored 76 points.

All-American fullback Tom Reynolds hauled in 34 passes for 691 yards and six TDs. He scored 70 points this season. Last season Reynold led the state with 96 points.

End John Featherstone also ranked high in the conference's pass-catching column, having caught 31 aerials for 616 yards and seven TDs. Featherstone also added 46 points to EC's cause.

Quarterback Dan Heck finished second in Metro behind Long Beach City College's All-American Dennis Dummit. Heck connected on 92 of 161 passes for 1715 yards and 18 TDs, while Dummit completed 148 of 245 aerials for 2141 yards and 19 TDs. Heck also scored 42 points on running

Which Team Is No. 1?

It's only three weeks since the presidential election the polls are again a source of controversy. Last Saturday, after Ohio State crushed Michigan, and

Buckeye coach Woody Hayes exclaimed: "We deserve to be No. 1." USC coach John McKay was reminded of Hayes' remark Monday at a meeting of Southland football

Said McKay with a grin and a little sting in his voice: "If Woody Hayes really wants to be No. 1, why not cancel out our game with Notre Dame here Satur-day and they can play the damn thing in Columbus, O."

A co uple of hours later, it was learned the Trojans and Buckeyes are No. 1½. United Press International rankings kept USC in first but Ohio State moved to the top spot in the Associated Press poll. Turning serious about the Trojans' nationally-teles vised game with Notre Dame Sturday at the Coliseum, McKay called the Irish "big and strong, with probably the best offensive team in college football." The Trojan coach said he expects the injured Ter-ry Hanratty's quarterback replacement, sophomore Joe Theismann, to give USC trouble.

Robertson along with Ed Eno, Dale Hewitt and Terry Mendenhall will be on the alert Saturday in hopes of picking off a few passes from Diablo Valley. Nobles has already had 19 of his passes intercepted.

Following the quarter final bout between EC and Diablo Valley, the victor will advance to the semi-finals which will be with either Fresno City College of the Valley Conference or College of Marin of the Camino Norte Conference.

If the game is with Fresno, it will be a 1:30 p.m. clash on Saturday, Dec. 7. If it is with Marin, the game will be played Friday, Dec. 6 at 8 p.m.

Football Season Ends for West

After breezing past eight opponents and completing an unbeaten Bay League debut with a fiery 13-7 victory over Santa Monica, the West Warriors ended their 1968 football season with a 24-6 loss to Lakewood High School of the Moore League.

The CIF first round playoff game was played Friday night at Long Beach Veter-ans' Stadium before a crowd Trotters of 4,000. Lakewood tied El Rancho In Night for the Moore League title with a 4-1 record. El Rancho deferted Chaffey in the playoffs, 47-19.

Coach John Ford's Lake-wood Lancers scored a touchdown in each of the first two periods and added a third touchdown and field goal in the closing quarter. The first TD was the result of a faulty punt attempt by West in the first period. Paul Smith had to "eat" a poor pass from center on his own 19 yard line and Lakewood's Al Lemmerman immediately took off on a 19-yard scoring play. Lem-merman scored three touch-downs in the game while quarterback Mike Rae tallied three conversions and a 32-yard field goal. West's only touchdown came in the second quarter to narrow the gap to 7-6 for Lakewood.

Quarterback Coy Hall who completed 20 of 30 pass-es for 204 yards, tossed two passes to Gary Kendrick for 27 yards and finally spotted Gary Hulsey for a 7-yard fourbdwar touchdown.

Lakewood ran the score to 14-7 before halftime as Limmerman ripped 9 yards to the end zone. He carried 9 of 10 times in the drive.

After Paul Johnson missed a field goal try for West, the Lancers went 80 yards. The TD came on a 45 yard burst by Lemmerman. West TD — Hulsey (7 yd. pass from Hall). Lakewood TDs — Lemmerman (19 6, 45 yd. runs); PATs — Rae (2 kicks, 1 run); PG — Rae (32 yd. kick).

Foyt Has Drawing Power

What Arnold Palmer is to a golf tournament, A. J. Foyt, Jr., is to an auto race. That says something for the Rex Mays 300 Sunday at Riverside International Raceway, Foyt is in it.

The incredible Mr. Foyt adds the final touch of class to an entry field that now totals 52 drivers. He will be going after his 42nd national championship victory (including Indy 500 wins in 1961, '64 and '67), at Riverside Sunday, but if he doesn't win, it will be a long time before any other driver comes close to his win
