Camp Trips for Adults Slated

The County Department of Senior Citizens Affairs is now accepting reservations for the summer's Senior Adult Camp, offering five days of recreation and fellowship in the smog-free air of the San Bernardino Mountains.

Two sessions have been scheduled from July 5 through 9 and July 9 through 13 at the Loch Leven conference grounds, 10 miles east of Redlands.

Outdoor activities will include hiking, swimming, nature study and rainbow trout fishing on the camp grounds (no license fee). Plans also call for lectures, discussions, arts and crafts, geriatric calisthenics, singing, movies and other activities according to the interests of the campers.

Lodge facilities include modern conveniences that make the camp suitable to persons of all ages. Buildings feature complete indoor plumbing, comfortable sleeping accommodations, a large dining hall and central lounge with fireplace. The altitude is 4,000 feet.

Total cost for each five-day session, covering four nights lodging and 12 complete meals, is only $23. Roundtrip bus transportation, with pickup points in the central Los Angeles, Harbor and San Fernando valley areas, is available for an additional $5.

Applications and additional information may be obtained at the Bartlett Adult Center, 1318 Cravens Ave.

City Aide Named to Commission

Supervisor Burton W. Chace has reappointed Stan Vaughan, Redondo Beach city treasurer, to a four-year term on the county delinquency and crime commission.

Chace's reappointment was approved by the board of supervisors Tuesday.

"Vaughan has done an outstanding job in his first six months as a member of this important commission," Chace said. "In addition to his fine attendance record at regular meetings, he has taken it upon himself to conduct night field visits to various problem areas to see — firsthand — what is being done and what should be done to fight crime."

Nurses Needed For Benefit

Registered nurses here and throughout Southern California are being invited to volunteer their skills during the Special Olympics for Retarded Children to be held July 25 and 26 at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Mrs. Marie Fuess, director of nursing programs for the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Red Cross, is in charge of local recruitment for the event which is sponsored by the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation. Children from all the western states will participate.

Mrs. Fuess said that at least 50 nurses will be needed to staff first aid stations in the Coliseum and in assembly areas where participants, ranging in age from 8 to 18, will gather before competing in track and field events.

Nurses who would like to participate in this unusual event may contact Red Cross.

Imagine getting all of this for less than $4000.*

Start with a front grille that makes those other cars look ordinary.

Look down the longest sweep of hood in the industry.

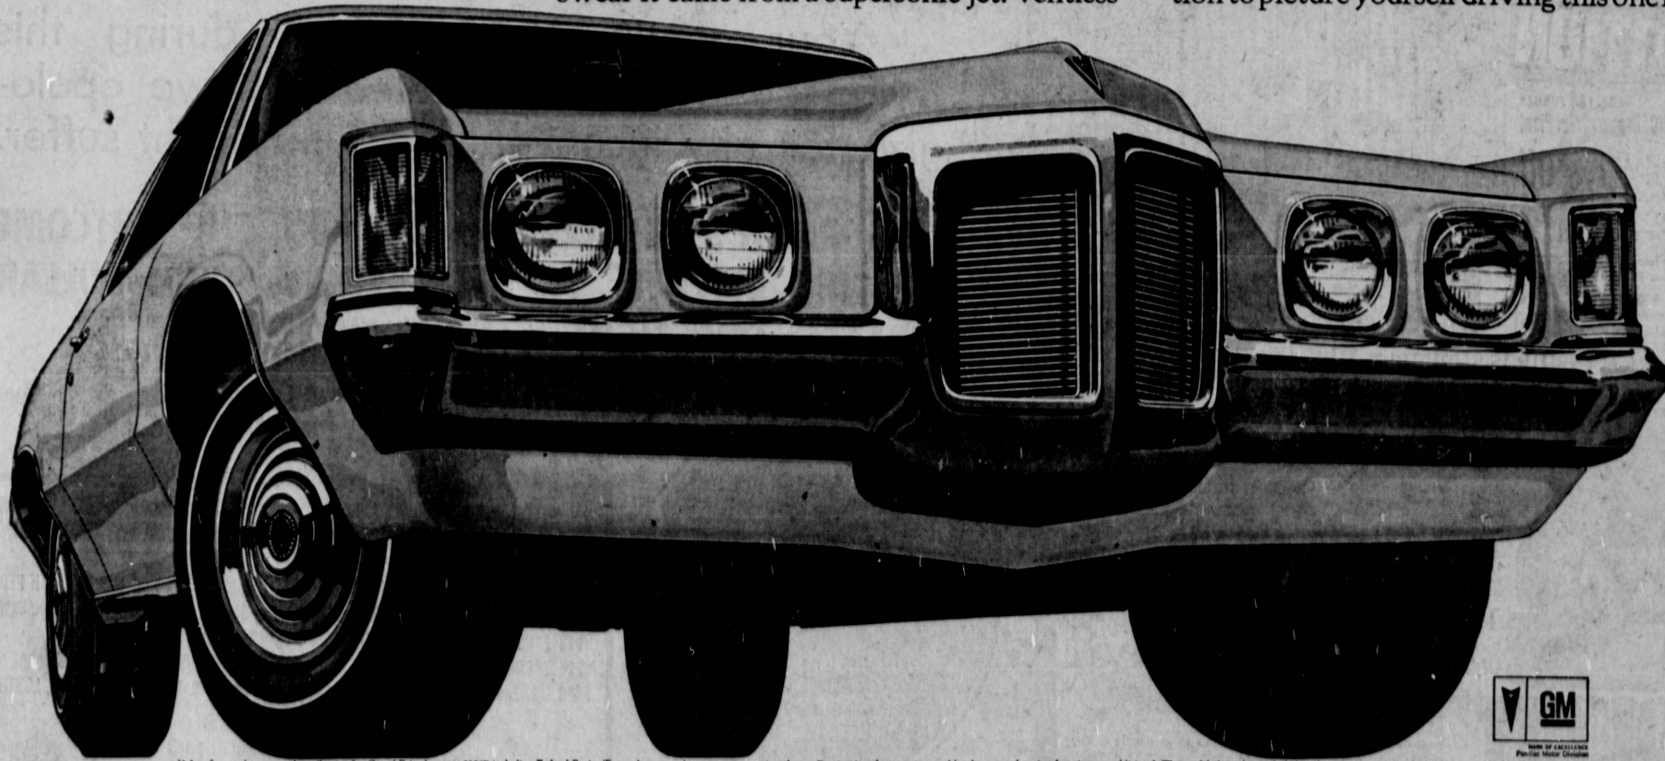

Picture beneath it a standard 400-cubic inch V-8 that gives you 350 horses.

And then put yourself in the cockpit. That's right, the cockpit. You didn't think a car this dramatic would have an ordinary driver's seat, did you? Strato-buckets. Padded console. And a uniquely styled dash that puts all controls at your fingertips. You'd swear it came from a supersonic jet. Ventless side windows. Hidden windshield wipers. And a radio antenna that's out of sight, too.

There's more. Lots more.

And all for less than four G's. Now. At your Pontiac dealer's. See it. Drive it. '69 Pontiac Grand Prix. It doesn't take much imagination to picture yourself driving this one home.

Get behind the wheel of a Pontiac Grand Prix now at your Pontiac dealer's.
