Annual Battle of the Budget in Full Swing

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR SACRAMENTO — Califor-nia's annual battle of the budget is on again in full swing and for likely to be continued for e rest of the fonth as Demo is likely crats seek to give the Republican budget-makers a bad time and the GOP contingent, with not enough votes to meet the 54 requirement for passage, at-tempt to get enough com-promises to get the $6.2 billion spending document into operation by June 30.

From all indications, it's go ing to be close race this year to meet that deadline, which spells the end of the current fiscal year, and starts a new and more expensive year.

eration

The Assembly already has rejected the Republican budget, which stymies operations in the lower house for all prac-tical purposes until the Senate version is sent over for considweek ago.

And the Senate version had not even come out of com-mittee at the close of last week. Considering all the tech-nical problems of moving the budget, the time short.

Meanwhile. Assemblyman Meanwhile, Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Ca-nada), who's the budget boss in the Assembly as chairman of the ways and means com-mittee, took the lid off the ob-jections of Democrats who re-fused to pass the budget over a work any Lanterman cited the Democrat amendments to the budg-crat amendments to the budg-et, which the Assembly refused to adopt, stating they "contain g l a r i n g errors, and items which have already been elimi-

In other words, the ways and In other words, the ways and means chairman used a polite method of saying the Demo-crats don't know what they are talking about in asking for re-ductions that had already been made the Assembly ways and means committee.

The proposed amendments, he said, were so "hurriedly concocted and inaccurate, so irresponsible in impact on state programs, so blatant in attempting to undermine the work of more than 1,200 man that I can't believe responsible Assembly members could en-dorse this plan."

He pointed out that in many cases, the proposed reductions were irresponsible and harm-ful to state programs, and could not be considered.

Thereupon, the doughty chairman proceeded to outline the flaws, errors, and dam-aging requests item by item in a thick "white paper" designed to heap ignominy on the opposition party.

HERB CAEN SAYS:

But regardless of the white paper, it doesn't look good for revival of the Assembly version of the budget, although this was requested by former Speaker Jess M. Unruh in a letter to Speaker Robert Monagan. Unruh wants to tie an "effective" tax reform, and a "sound" school finance bill into the budget, and as Democratic floor leader, indicated there would be no budget until his demands are met. As a po-tential candidate for governor of the state, he seeks as much embarrassment to the administration of Gov. Ronald Reagan as he can dream up. It is not expected by many legislators that any tax reform program at all will be voted at this session of the Legislature, let alone one which is effective. And the history of school financing legislation has in-dicated this phase of govern-ment hasn't been "sound for a long time, if ever."

Hence the impossible de-mands of the Democrats can be chalked up to nothing but a partisan move to delay the functioning of government.

Set down to a oreaxist of coll-fee and doughnuts ("Rudolf, you shouldn't eat doughnuts." scolded his wife) and then walked to the piano. "I'm ap-per Chatauqua, N.Y., festival in August," he said in his Aust-ration of the said in his Aust-haugust, "I he said in his Aust-not and the said in his Aust-auton of the said in his Aust-haugust, "I he said in his Aust-haugust," He gazed out to sea. "I will be 90 years old in De-cember," he mused. "On my synder," he mused. "On my synder," he mused. "On my synder," he mused. "On my synderth letter from Presi-dent Johnson. Who will write to the on my 90th?" Make a not, "Kixon.

Onward: Writers Herbert Gold, Paul Jacobs, Harvey

fee and doughnuts ("Rudolf,

Your Right to Know Is the Key to All Your Liberties

Comment and Opinion

JUNE 11, 1969

PRESS-HERALD C-3

A Gift of Blood A new idea for relieving the serious blood shortage that plague many parts of the country, especially in the summer and after Christmas, is proposed in an article, "Why Is It Tough To Get Blood ?" in the April issue of the American Legion Magazine.

Tom Mahoney, author of the article, suggests that every eligible person celebrate his or her birthday by giving a pint of blood at their local blood bank or collection center.

"If only one or two additional persons out of 100 would give one pint of blood a year," says Dr. Frank Coleman, president of the American Association of Blood Banks, "the shortage problem would be relieved at least for the near future.

The demand for blood has been rising steadily because of advances in surgery and therapy and has now passed 6.5 million pints a year, the article reports.

But, our population is increasing only about one per cent a year and while nearly 105 million Americans are qualified by age and health to give blood only two to three per cent of them do so. If you are between 21 and 60, or even older if your doctor approves, you can help by donating at your local blood bank or collection center.

You don't need to wait for your birthday.

Answering Skeptics

Space flights capture the public's imagination. But, they also raise the ancient query that has plagued explorers, inventors and pioneers since the dawn of time. What good are they? The answer is a great deal of good. The billions of dollars that have been spent toward putting a man on the moon have not been rocketed into space as many people seem to think. They have been spent here on earth. Like an iceberg, space flights are but the visible tip of massive advances in knowledge that can be turned to the resolution of earth problems.

A top participant in the space effort and a company that has aggressively applied space technology to commercial manufacturing, North American Rockwell Corporation, notes in one of its advertisements that, "Everytime we take on outer space, we learn more about how to tackle the problems on earth. Already, the nation's space program has sparked break-throughs in fields like medicine, electronics, materials and weather forecasting. And we've hardly gotten off the ground."

The effort that has gone into the space program has infused a large segment of science and industry with new life that could be the salvation of the country in years to come

A Miracle Medicine

The closer a nation edges toward state medicine, the more prominent the element of mass care which gradually erases personalized attention. An interest-ing instance that indicates the doctor-patient relationship may be more important than many think. It has been brought to light in a short item in The Reader's Digest telling of the reaction of laboratory rats during an experiment at Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada.

Spring House Cleaning

SACRAMENTO REPORT Bill on State Hospital Program Before Senate

year in loane By RALPH C. DILLS aillion a minion a year in loans, with anything not used each year to be carried over to the next year. After a five-year period, there would be no ceiling on the loans the loans.

The need for new hospital construction and the updating of existing facilities is becom-ing a major crisis in California and the Legislature is now considering a measure to alleviate the problem.

Voters at last November's general election approved Proposition 5 by a substantial margin, authorizing the state to guarantee private loans for construction of non-profit hos-pitals. This was in answer to the established need for nearly 4,000 hospital beds, the mod-ernization of existing struc-tures accomodating nearly 9,-000 beds, and the construction of facilities for 9,500 beds cur-rently needed for the care of long-term illness. Voters at last November's long-term liness. ☆ ☆ ☆ Under an enabling legislation for Proposition 5 which has just reached the floor of the state Senate, California would lation.

guarantee a maximum of $750 million in loans for the con-struction and remodeling of lo-cal hospitals. The state would the program and, if necessary, pay off any loans. with

Proponents of the measure contend it will give impetus economically to the state, al-lowing utilization of regular the loans. The need for Proposition 5 and the enabling legislation ar-ises from the state's withdraw-al from the highly successful Hill-Harris program, which calls for state and federal gov-ernments to each contribute on-third of the cost of hospital construction and remodeling. The state program as proa I ready overburdened tax-payer of a large economic drain previously committed by grants for hospital construction and remodeling.

The state program as pro-osed would offer a private enterprise means to achieve the additional construction and modernization essential to keep California's hospital system among the most modern in the world, and to meet the de-mands of our burgeoning popu-

> Up until last year, federal funds for local hospital proj-ects were granted to the extent of one-third the cost. The state matched these funds, which in recent years have run in the neighborhood of $15 to $20 mil-lion per year. The remaining lion per year. The remaining one-third has been raised by local hospital-sponsored agencies involved. This was achieved by bonding or public subscription — but hitting the local tax-payer either way.

Home Improvement Note: White House Gets a Tub Caenfetti: Give us this day behind their wheels. At last the car parked behind the sailor Iouse did not have a bathub moved out, whereupon he ntil 1891. Half-safe Presi-backed in and emerged with a sat down to a breakfast of cof - something he does every morning, wherever he is - he sat down to a breakfast of cofour foolish filler: The White House did not have a bathtub until 1891. Half-safe Presiuntil 1891. Half-safe Presi-dents are nothing new . . . Instant n o st al g ia for the young: Big Brother and the Holding Company, minus Jan-is Joplin, have folded. The Quicksilver Messenger Service has disbanded. Of the original great S.F. rock groups, that leaves only The Grateful Dead and the Jefferson Airplane revolver, which he twirled on a finger in the manner of John Wayne. The other driver Report from Our Man in San Francisco glanced at the gun and went right on reading his paper (this has to be quite a cool custom-and the Jefferson Airplane, who, for old times sake, will has to be quite a cool custom-er). Finally, the sailor pock-eted his gun and strolled off ... 'A cop on a three-wheeler came by a couple of times while all this was going on," reports Whitaker, "but I guess he didn't want to get in-volved." get together for a weekend in Winterland at the end of May.

For Mitzi: When the news arrived from Vienna that the wife of Maestro Josef Krips had died, the four front-liners of the S.F. Symphony — Con-certmaster Jacob Krachmaln-ic k, Assoc. Concertmaster Stuart Canin, Violist Rolf Per-singer and Cellist Bob Sayre-wondered what they could do wondered what they could do as a tribute to Mitzi. Then they came to a decision: at the Re-queim Mass in Old St. Mary's these four master musicies these four master musicians played Schubert's String Quar-tet No. 14, "Death and the tet No. 14, "Death and the Maiden" . . . Gallant to the end: Mitzi Krips' age was not mentioned in the obituaries here. When the Maestro was reached by phone in Vienna and asked, among other things, "How old was she?", he re-plied sadly: "Does that really matter — now?"

How the west was won on Taylor St. between Post and Sutter, witnessed by Frank Whitaker the other afternoon: As a black car started to back into a parking place, a white car driven by a sailor nosed in behind it. Neither car would budge — a real Mexican standoff. For 35 minutes, they re-mained in that position — one car nosed in, one car nosed out — as both drivers calmly sat

THE MONEY TREE

Gold, Paul Jacobs, Harvey Swados, Michael Harrington and Nat Hentoff, Prof. Sey-rnour Lipset of UC, Tom Bur-bridge and a few other mem-bers of the illuminati know where they'il be in August. In Superior Court. Harry Bridges' Powers, the Monterey restau-rateur, came as a shock to those who appreciated his driv-ing personality, his dedication to good food and wine, and his transformation of an old adobe house into a restaurant of in-ternatonal acclaim. But Galla-ting will bigs His widow the Superior Court. Harry Bridges l on g-simmering libel suit against them is finally coming to trial; it was a pidding \$250,-000 affair in '66, when filed, but has since been inflated to a million. The only defendant who won't be on hand is the late Norman Thomas Luxternatonal acclaim. But Galla-tin's will live. His widow, the former Jehanne Monteagle, will be at the helm from now on, and behind the wheel of the classic Rolls-Royce he loved so much, It was only last week that he bellowed: "I oughta get rid of this heap. I had to get a new muffler and it cost \$400!" He never looked livelier as he kicked a tire in mock outrage.  $\Rightarrow \Rightarrow \Rightarrow$

Pocketfull of notes: The un-expected death of Gallatin Powers, the Monterey restau-

late Norman Thomas . . Lux-ury living note: They roughed it here in '06, and they were roughing it recently at the Golden Gateway. Because of Golden Gateway. Because of water pressure problem, the tollets were inoperative for a couple of days, and tenants were handed notices suggest-ing: "A bucket of water drawn from the bathtub can be used to flush the tollet." Reaction from Tenant E. M. Seaward, who lives in a $600-a-month apt. there: "On top of a $125-a-month rent increase and Reagan's new tax program, this is too much!" A A A Winderkind: Rudolf Frinl, composer of some of the most beloved musical comedies ever vesterday morning in his house on 48th Avenue, where he lives han be's not at his place in pair Desert, or Los Angeles, or Europe ("I don't know where we live," complains his wife. "He always wants to go somewhere"). After standing

Here's a Chance to Buy View Lots By the Acre By MILTON MOSKOWITZ is sparse. Price: $10 to $15 per mostly timber or tundra. The acre

Is there still a frontier, a lace where you can buy some and for yourself? The answer is yes. The Unit-

The answer is yes. The Unit-ed States government remains the largest landowner in the country, and parcels are regu-larly offered for public sale. The catch is, most of this land is rather barren—dry and rough. Nearly all of the land which can be farmed econom-ically has already massed into World of Finance do with it after you buy it is acre. One thing you have to ad-mit—the price is right. Where else in this country can you buy land so cheaply? What you'll mostly timber or tundra. The continental state with the greatest amount of public land is Nevada—it has 48 million acres. (Howard Hughes hasn't gotten around to this yet. What a perfect hiding place!) Other big tracts of federal A Look at the Other big tracts of federal land are in Utah (22 million acres), Wyoming (16 million acres), and Oregon and Cali-fornia (each with 15 million lending agencies by hospitals. In addition, the loan program will relieve the state and the and remodeling. The state Advisory Hospital Gouncil, which in the past has approved grant applications will review applications for state-insured loans, one of the several safeguards to prevent unwarranted building of health facilities. Fiscal and manage-tia qualifications, as well as the need for the proposed faci-ity or renovation, and the fis-form the criteria for eligibility.

which can be farmed econom-ically has already passed into private ownership. Still, there is this land for sale. In 1967, for example, some 430 tracts totaling 60,000 acres were sold at public auc-tion. Right now, in case you're interested, the following pieces of property are up for sale by the government:

Dr. Eldon Boyd, professor of pharmacology at the University, tells how one of the University technicians in toxicology treated the rats with affection and even gave them names. The rats in turn ran to meet her and offered little or no resistance to uncomfortable experimental treatment. When the technician gave them lethal doses of a certain drug, only 20 per cent of them died. The same dosage administered by any one else killed off an average 80 per cent. Dr. Boyd's explanation-the rats appeared to like the technician.

"There is nothing else that accounts for the difhe said. He pointed out that similar results ference." could be found in people and suggested that doctors take the emotional factor into account when prescribing drugs. The reaction of a child to a drug given by his mother would, perhaps, be different from his reaction to the same dose from a strange nurse.

When the medical profession speaks of the doctorpatient relationship as an important factor in health care, it knows what it is talking about.

The author points out that under the new program no tax-payer's funds would be needed, as the loan guarantee is self-supporting. Fees paid by agencies and organizations whose loans would be guaran-teed by the state would provide trantee a maximum of $150 teed by the state would provide

Other Opinions

SHELBYVILLE, KY., SENTINEL: "The country is suffering from an excess of tolerance regarding dangerous social changes. Instead of being 'understanding' of users of marijuana, or of campus lawbreakers, parents and other adult citizens should take a tough approach to behavioral problems, for the nation is threatened from within by those who want to destroy all the ancient rules of a decent society.'

$

$

20

DILLON, S.C., HERALD: "We are facing hot competition from foreign nations like Japan, which are moving into many American market areas with great selling success. And as our wages go up, and prices increase, our products are being priced out of the world market in many cases. Figures show that our trade surplus in 1968 was only $500 million, when it should have been three or four billions - past as a guide." - using the

The need has been estab-lished. All that is lacking now is the Legislature's approval of the bill and the signature of the

Press-Herald Glenn W. Pfeil Reid L. Bundy Editor and Co-Publisher Published Each Wednesday and Friday 3238 W. Sepulveda Blvd Terrance, Calif, 90510

Government land is sold by public auction. The prices quoted above are the mini-mums at which you can bid for those particular tracts. You don't have to be present for the auction but it helps if there are other bidders and there are other bidders and you want to raise your offer. To find out about public of property are up for sale by the government: 1. Two isolated tracts - 40 acres each-seven miles west of Angels Camp in California's Calavaras County. This is rough, brush terrain. There's no water supply. The sale price for both: $4,900. 2. A 160-acre parcel 12 miles west of Tombstone, Ariz. You need four-wheel drive to get to the property. There are To find out about public property for sale, you apply to the regional offices of the Bureau of Land Management, which is part of the Depart-ment of Interior. These offices are located in the capitals of the 11 westernmost states (not counting Haural). They are counting Hawaii). They are located there because that's where all the land is. get to the property. There are no utilities and the nearest powerline is a mile and one-half away. Price: $7,200.

where all the land is. About one-fifth of the land area of the U.S. is still under federal ownership. And that's not counting those lands which have been set aside for nation-al forests and parks. However, about one-half of all this government - owned half away. Price: $7,200. 3. Two sections — one 200 acres, the other 315 acres—on a rough, steep, mountain hill-side four miles north of Rock Island in central Washington. There's no water, vegetation all this government - owned land is located up in Alaska— some 275 million acres. This is Much of our land has been acquired, one way or another, by corporations. Railroads, for example. Federal land grants to railroads since 1850 have totaled more than 94 million acres—and much of this is now prime real estate in urban centers.

Paper companies, with their vast needs for timber, are also huge landowners. Internation-al Paper owns no less than 6. million acres. Brown Company has 4.5 million acres, Georgia-Pacific, 4 million; Weyer-haeuser, 3.5 million.

haeuser, 3.5 million. That land, of course, you can't have. They grow money there, and it's all been taken. The Bureau of Land Man-agement does point out that the land it sells, while some-w h at inaccessible, of fers "some of the most dramatic-ally sweeping vistas of the un-tamed West." What price vista? What price vista?