

COUNTY REPORT

Construction Projects Attract the Pre-Teens

By BURTON W. CHACE
County Supervisor

Summer time is fun time for youngsters, but it can also be "danger time."

Most parents think of beaches and swimming pools as the danger area for youngsters, and this is so if they haven't been taught to swim. But there's another danger area which attracts youngsters during the idle summer months, particularly children in the pre-teenage bracket — hazardous construction projects.

Because of the heavy building activity in public and private building programs, construction projects pose an attractive nuisance in most neighborhoods.

LOS ANGELES County and most private builders do everything reasonably possible to protect youngsters from construction hazards. The county fences in most jobs and regularly patrols others and advises our contractors to do the same.

But a fence cannot be built high enough to keep determined youngsters away from equipment, dangerous excavations and so on. Only their parents can do this.

Parents can take advantage of work schedule announcements which the county engineer distributes in neighborhoods where county construction is scheduled. Notices are distributed just prior to the start of work.

This practice is unusual, however, and parents should take it upon themselves to learn schedules of private construction in their neighborhoods so they can better protect their children.

COUNTY supervisors, on my motion, have endorsed a bill pending before the State Legislature which would create a Southern California Beach Study Commission.

The commission would help to preserve and to enhance the state's shoreline, one of its finest assets.

The concept of a beach committee is an excellent one and has been brought into sharp focus by the recent threat of oil-slick damage to our precious shoreline.

THE IDEA underscores the county's position in creating a Department of Beaches to protect and improve our beaches. Everything possible must be done to preserve them for the best use by the public.

A state commission would provide a coordinated approach in dealing with the problem of beach protection. The Assembly bill, if approved, would require the commission to complete its report in January, 1971.

The group would be comprised of nine members. Appointments to the commission would be by the Senate Rules Committee, two members; Assembly Speaker, two members; Governor, three members; Senate, one member; and Assembly, one member.

COMPOSER-conductor Lalo Schifrin will be the guest conductor in Hollywood Bowl during the final judging event of the county's 10th annual Battle of the Bands June 27.

Schifrin will conduct teenage musicians through a medley of his compositions and lead them in accompanying vocalists and vocal groups. The musical competition is sponsored by the County Department of Parks and Recreation.

Music and singing will commence at 8:30 p.m. when more than 150 top-scoring finalists in five divisions — dance band, school dance band, combo, vocal soloist, and vocal group — will compete for trophies.

Ticket information may be obtained by phoning the County Parks and Recreation Battle of the Bands Unit at the Hollywood Bowl, 463-2326. General admission is $1.50, with reserved seats for $3.

Harbor Graduates 419 In Largest Class Ever

A record class of 419 will receive Associate in Arts degrees in commencement exercises at Los Angeles Harbor College Thursday, at 6 p.m. This is 58 more than last year's class.

Principal speaker will be the Rev. James E. Jones, president of the Los Angeles City Board of Education.

J. Rebyburn Hatfield, dean of educational services, who is retiring after being with the college since its beginning in 1949, will confer the degrees. The graduates will be presented by Richard Hughes, faculty association president, and Van Guelder Waring, chairman of the faculty senate.

Members of Alpha Gamma Sigma scholarship organization will be named for recognition by Mrs. Alice Fuerst, sponsor.

The invocation will be delivered by Wes LaCuesta, student body president. The charge will be delivered by Dr. Wendell C. Black, college president. Music will be provided by the Harbor College Choir under the direction of Janet Hay, and the college orchestra, under the direction of Daniel Remeta.

After commencement a reception for the graduates will be held in Seahawk Center. Earlier in the day they will have their traditional sophomore breakfast at the San Pedro Elks Club.

The associate in arts degree indicates that the candidates have successfully completed their two-year programs at Harbor College and are prepared to go on to other colleges and universities or to begin their vocational careers.

Anti-Smog Official Appointed

Ralph E. George, senior air pollution analyst and 20-year veteran of the Air Pollution Control District, has been appointed director of the APCD's enforcement division by county smog chief Louis J. Fuller.

George will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Lloyd H. McEwen who served the district for 22 years.

In announcing the appointment, Fuller noted that George will be responsible for providing round-the-clock surveillance of all air pollution sources and for securing compliance with state laws and APCD rules and regulations.

The new enforcement director has been with the APCD since 1950. For the past 14 years he has been chief of the fuels and power plant section of the district's evaluation and planning division.
