'Outstanding Students' Honored

South Bay Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority presented their annual award during a convocation at California State College, Dominguez Hills, on May 29 for the Most Outstanding Freshman Woman there. This year, because of equal qualifications, the Student Awards Committee of the college chose two students for this honor, Janet Lew and Lynn Kiyuna.

In addition to high academic achievement, the Most Outstanding Freshman Woman must have contributed to the college and the community through participation in student activities and organizations, demonstrating leadership, effective citizenship, interest in social and cultural activities, and contribute to college morale and spirit. She must effectively use her talents through music, art, literature, or sports and have an attractive general appearance and social personality. The purpose of this award is to give personal recognition and encouragement for outstanding work to a freshman woman.

Mrs. Delvin Riesenhuber, vice-president of South Bay Alumnae Chapter of Delta Zeta, presented Miss Lew and Miss Kiyuna each with an individual trophy to take home, and their names are engraved on the large perpetual trophy which is kept on display at the college.
