Her oldest daughter, Linda Levanus, is a junior in nursing at California State College at Long Beach.

Panel Discussion To Feature AAUW Meet

Palos Verdes-Rolling Hills Branch of the American Association of University Women will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Peninsula Center Library.

Continuing this year's theme, the title will be "On Being a Woman in a Community." A panel of community leaders will discuss priorities in women's plan of living in order to reach goals in the community, how to arrive at the decision in the choice of activity, and how to dovetail and manage to meet varied commitments.

Mrs. Virginia Warren, clinical audiologist, doctoral student in communicative disorders at USC and former chairman of the speech department at Marymount, will be the moderator.

On the panel will be Mmes. Eleanor Widemann, Lucille Crain, Corena Green, and Delane Morgan.

Four new topics of study by the National AAUW will be presented and the branch will decide whether to study certain topics or all, correlating them with the continuing areas of interest, community problems, cultural interests, education, world problems, legislative action and status of women.

The 23 members, who were guests of Supervisor Burton Chace and who toured Juvenile Hall and attended a Los Angeles City Council meeting, will give their reports as part of the study, "Meeting Values in a Changing Society."

Each year, the Sisterhood has as its honored guests those women who have achieved the goal of "honor" in support of Sisterhood activities at Temple Menorah. The luncheon is an annual culmination of a year's work and service.

Following the luncheon, guests will be entertained by the unique artistry of Miss Sarah Hersberg. Miss Hersberg is a professional singer, guitarist, and recording artist, especially noted for her original musical interpretations of Biblical stories.

A highlight of the afternoon will be the recognition of the "Woman of Merit." This annual award is presented by the Sisterhood to one or more of its members who have continuously upheld positions of responsibility within Sisterhood and Temple Menorah for three or more years. The 1968 recipient of the award, Mrs. Clarke Kates, will make the surprise announcement and present the special plaque given to the honorees.

Arrangements for the luncheon have been made by Mrs. William Horwitz, assisted by Mrs. Sidney Landerson, Mrs. Clarke Kates, and Mrs. Mark Frisman, Sisterhood president.
